Calls Treaty 'Honorable Commitment' for Survival

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy formally ratified a limited nuclear test ban today, calling it "a clear, honorable national commitment" to the cause of man's survival.

Kennedy, in a ten-minute ceremony in the historic Treaty Room at the White House, said the pact to ban all but underground nuclear tests was "a great promise" and marks a beginning that could lead to further East-West agreements.

If this treaty fails," Kennedy said, "it will not be our doing. Even if it fails, we shall not regret that we made this commitment."

Must Stay Vigilant

The President said the United States "can and must keep our vigilance" — an obvious reference to his earlier promise that the nation would be in a position to quickly resume atmospheric testing of nuclear weapons should some other power violate the treaty.

With 16 government officials and members of Congress looking on, Kennedy used 17 fountain pens to sign four copies of the formal instrument of ratification. The Senate consented to ratification of the treaty by a 80-19 vote on Sept. 24.

More than 100 other nations have added their signatures to the treaty.

Kennedy, reading a formal statement before ratifying the agreement, said that the first two decades of the age of nuclear energy "were full of fear."

Says Hope Grows

He said that, because of this treaty, "today the fear is a little less and hope a little greater."

While emphasizing the limited nature of the treaty, Kennedy expressed hope that it would be the forerunner of other, broader agreements which, he said, may be more difficult to achieve.

Kennedy first used 16 pens to sign the instruments of ratification.

Having distributed these, he reached for a 17th and added a few flourishes to his signature on one gilt-bound copy, saying: "I have to get one for myself."

The White House said the limited ban would go into full effect Thursday when the three copies are placed in official depositories in Washington, London and Moscow.

Witness Ceremony

Witness for the ceremony in the second-floor office include Undersecretary of State W. Averell Harriman, the chief American negotiator; Secretary of State Dean Rusk; Director William Z. Foster of the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency; Deputy Disarmament Director Adrian Fisher; John J. McCloy, chairman of the agency's advisory committee; Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, and these Senate members: Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont.; Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn.; George Smathers, D-Fla.; Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill.; Thomas Kuchel, R-Calif.; J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark.; George D. Aiken, R-Vt.; Bourke Hickenlooper, R-Iowa; John O. Pastore, D-R.I.; Leverett Saltonstall, R-Mass.; Henry Jackson, D-Wash.; and Howard Cannon, D-Nev.

The treaty is the 12th major pact.

Reynolds Will Ask Showdown With Senate

Governor Upset by Failure to Vote On His Appointments

CRESCENT MADISON BUREAU

MADISON — Democratic Gov. W. W. Reynolds said today he determined to have a showdown with the Republican state senate on his power to make appointments to state administrative offices.

But he added at a news conference in his office, that he is doing it difficult to locate men and women willing to accept appointments as a means of prolonging the case in the courts.

To Visit Japan

The governor said he is leaving a trip to Japan next weekend and hopes before that time to nominate to most of the 81 vacancies in the state services to which the state executive is entitled by law to appoint but which the state Senate by law must confirm.

Reynolds has been complaining for months that the senate's failure to vote either for or against his nominees has been tantamount to a "strike" against his government.

Impossible Situation

"This is an impossible situation," he declared angrily today, adding that he proposed to clarify gubernatorial rights so that, no conceding governor can be frustrated in the same way.

Thus the continuity of state government services won't be threatened through partisan political divisions, he said.

"You cannot run the executive branch of the state this way," he declared. He went on to save Republicans, although they have not been able to win the

Cuban Economy Suffers in Hurricane; Over 400 Killed

Rescuers Use Small Boat, ropes and fire ladder in attempt to rescue occupants of an auto from River Dee in Scotland Thursday. ## Half of Island's Main Crops Reported Wiped Out By Wind, Torrential Rains

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane about 350 miles south-southeast of Florida lashed Cuba today for the fourth day in a row, dealing a crushing blow to the already staggering economy of Fidel Castro's Communist regime.

Half of the island's sugar, rice, coffee, cotton and cocoa crops were reported wiped out by the extended wind and the torrential rain, and many hurricanes in the past.

Flora was far from through with her thrashing very slowly toward the stricken nation.

The turbulent eye of the storm crossed the south coast of Cuba, At 8 a.m. (EST), she had started to move once again across the storm to sit so long in one place, as Flora has.

Even more unease is the fact that near Santa Cruz Del Sur and was that Flora has maintained her strength, although a large part of her circulation has remained over land for four days.

The big storm churned up an angry sea in the northwest Caribbean, southeast Gulf of Mexico.

Sugar production, the backbone of Cuba's economy, already had fallen to the lowest level in 30 years, Castro admitted, of poor Communist management, lack of technical work by peasants, and the breakdown of motor transport.

Over 400 Dead

As the 100-mile-an-hour storm — which already has taken more than 400 lives — moved into Cuba for the second time, the Bahamas Islands came once more into range and Florida was threatened.

In her first thrust into Cuba Friday, Flora gave signs that she would thrash on northward into the Bahamas. But the storm stalled over Oriente province, then turned westward back into the Caribbean sea.

Only two deaths thus far have been confirmed in the guarded reports from the radio. The crews of two coastal fishing boats are missing in savage seas off the south coast. More than 400 bodies have been counted in Haiti.

Oriente is the principal sugar-producing province of Cuba and Flora in four days probably has done more damage to the crop than the anti-Castro rebels have done in four years with sabotage.

350 Miles From Miami

The 8 a.m. advisory placed the storm center near latitude 21.0 north, longitude 78.0 west, or 350 miles from Miami.

Diem Says Guerrillas Losing In South Viet Nam Struggle

Nation's Buddhist Problem Solved, He Says in Speech

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — President Ngo Dinh Diem said today the Communists are losing the guerrilla war in South Viet Nam.

In an address opening the National Assembly, Diem said the Communist Viet Cong faces the "eventuality of an inescapable defeat."

He also told his hand-picked assembly, in which there are no opposition parties, that South Viet Nam's Buddhist "problem" had been settled. His regime's recent crackdown on the Buddhists is to be debated in the U.N. General Assembly, beginning this afternoon.

Speaking while police enforced maximum security regulations in downtown Saigon, Diem said: "At this very moment, it is with regret that we see some countries, intoxicated by false information on the situation in Viet Nam and on the Buddhist question in particular, request and obtain inclusion in the United Nations agenda of a problem already settled."

In New York, 16 Asian, African and Latin American nations planned to introduce a resolution calling on U.N. Secretary-General U Thant to intercede in behalf of the Buddhists.

Diem has sent a special six-man mission to the U.N. to defend his government.

May Invite Team

South Viet Nam is expected to counter the criticism in the assembly with an invitation to an international inspection team to see the situation first hand.

Diem again said the Buddhist crisis was Communist inspired as "an ultimate maneuver" to avert inevitable defeat.

He said the declaration of martial law after the wave of Buddhist demonstrations and suicides "permitted the unmasking of the communists and their accomplices, and now a tempered, free Viet Nam emerges from this undeniably great trial through having victoriously surmounted this new assault of Communist conspiracy."

He also praised his armed forces for several "major victories."

Record Set by Docket as High Court Meets

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court convenes today for a new term, confronted with the heaviest docket in its long history.

Chief Justice Earl Warren, beginning his eleventh year on the high bench, has seen a steady annual increase in appeals during his regime. The total at term-opening now stands at almost 1,200 cases.

Representing an increase of about 300 cases over last October's opening, the total includes appeals expected to produce momentous decisions in the coming winter and spring.

Short Opening Day

Under court routine dating back many years, opening day is a short one devoted to admission of attorneys to practice before the high court.

Next Monday the court will announce what actions will be taken on hundreds of cases filed during the summer. The number to be announced is expected to exceed 600, compared with 453 acted on at the start of the 1962-63 term. Appeals granted will get hearings late in the fall or winter.

Questions left undecided in the Tennessee legislative reapportionment ruling of 1962 will be taken up soon. The court already has agreed to hear new apportionment cases from New York, Georgia, Alabama, Maryland and Virginia.

In the Tennessee case the tribunal decided the division of seats in state legislatures is subject to judicial scrutiny. Now the justices are faced with the question of what apportionment standards satisfy the Constitution.

Fund Quotas Dropped by Democrats

States Will Not Have to Send Funds To National Party

MADISON (AP) — Democratic leaders of 14 Midwestern states have been informed they no longer will have to meet campaign fund quotas for the national party. Whatever they raise will be spent in their own state.

Abandonment of the national committee's so-called quota system was disclosed by national chairman John M. Bailey at the Midwest Democratic Conference which ended Sunday.

Under the old plan each state party was assessed a certain amount each year for the national party's campaign fund. Many states had difficulty meeting that obligation, some of the leaders said.

New Formula Mapped

The new formula outlined by Bailey and his assistant, Gerald Bruno, formerly of Kenosha, provides that all campaign money raised by a state Democratic party organization be spent within its own state.

J. Louis Hanson, Wisconsin Democratic chairman, announced the new plan at a meeting of the state party's administrative committee. He said he thought it would meet organized labor's objections to contributing to some Democratic party fund raising events.

Hanson mentioned specifically the AFL-CIO Committee on Political Action (COPE), which decided recently not to support such affairs as fund raising dinners because part of the proceeds goes to the national party and might be used to support anti-labor Democrats. COPE has said it will support such events only when the proceeds go to a particular candidate.

14 American Explorers Found Safe in Desolate Mexican Area

CHIHUAHUA, Mexico (AP) — The 14 missing members of a U.S. exploration party were found safe today and in no need of an elaborate rescue operation.

under way by the U.S. Army and U.S. Air Force.

A plane carrying four searchers spotted one of the groups waving from the ground near the railroad community of Creel in desolate northwest Mexico.

The search plane landed at Creel and contact was made with the 12 men and two women who were reported missing in the uncharted and primitive Barranca De Cobre (Copper Gulch) Gorge on the Rio Urique River.

The gorge is described as more rugged and treacherous than the Grand Canyon in Arizona.

The explorers were to board a train at Creel for the ten hour trip to Chihuahua.

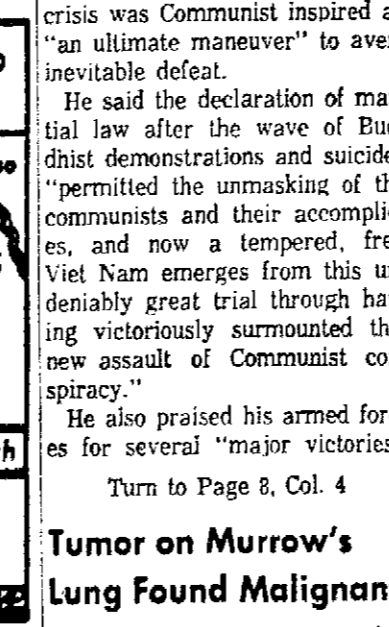

The group had planned to be the first to boat down the Rio Urique but lack of water in the meandering river made the trip virtually impossible. Their food ran short as they found they were making only one to three miles a day instead of 12 miles a day they had planned.

The group, described as in fine condition and needing no help, included a number of veteran river runners from Utah, two California business executives on a vacation and a zoology professor.

The party had made no contact with the outside for more than a week after running into trouble on the river.

The exploration - adventure group set out 13 days ago in four 15-foot rubber boats to travel the thin canyon which stretches along the winding, twisting Barranca Cobre (Copper Gulch). They had with them only enough food for a few days. They planned to pick up provisions from mining camps at intervals along the river.

The explorers found the river's

Arrives Amid Rain Mrs. Kennedy Visits Famous Greek Island

LESBOS ISLAND, Greece (AP) — The yacht Christina, carrying Mrs. John F. Kennedy on an Aegean cruise, arrived today at this island birthplace of the Greek poetess Sappho.

The yacht dropped anchor about half a mile off the port of Lesbos, on an overnight voyage from Istanbul through the Dardanelles and down the Turkish coast.

Heavy rain was falling as the vessel dropped anchor. But the rain stopped soon afterward. The sea was calm.

Lesbos, in the Aegean sea just off the Turkish coast, was Mrs. Kennedy's first Greek port of call since the Christina set out from Athens Friday night.

America's First Lady spent Sunday afternoon on a sightseeing tour of two famous Istanbul mosques and Turkey's national treasury collection of fabulous jewels and art objects collected by the rulers of the old Ottoman empire.

Mrs. Kennedy is touring on millionaire Greek shipowner Aristotle Onassis' 308-foot yacht Christina.

Mrs. Kennedy came out in public unexpectedly in Istanbul to the delight of Turks and an outpouring of American tourists. There was a mob scene during the two-hour swing through three of the ancient city's major points of interest.

Istanbul was the first port of call for the Christina after leaving Athens late Friday night. Mrs. Kennedy's arrival in Istanbul happened to coincide with the celebration of the 41st anniversary of the liberation of the city from the occupation forces of World War I.

House Votes for Deep Slashes in Major Programs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee today voted deep slashes in the nation's civil defense, space and science programs.

Among other things, it turned down the entire $195 million asked for a nationwide fallout shelter program.

In a bill financing 26 executive agencies and offices, the committee approved only $13,102,818, 700 of the $14,558,588,000 requested by President Kennedy for the present fiscal year.

But even with the $1,555,769,300 cut, the bill's total as it went to the House floor for consideration later this week was $1,233,067,400, higher than the same agencies received last year.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration was allotted $5.1 billion of the $5,712,000,000 the President had originally requested.

Tumor on Murrow's Lung Found Malignant

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hospital authorities reported today the tumor which required removal of the left lung of Edward R. Murrow, director of the U. S. Information Agency, was malignant.

Murrow underwent surgery at Washington Hospital Center Saturday for removal of the tumor. The growth was found to be so located that removal of the entire lung was required.

A laboratory check on the tumor was ordered.

UW Meteorologists:

Indian Summer Always the Same ...But Not Necessarily Forever

People in Wisconsin, and many other parts of the world, are waiting for that last delicious bit of clear, balmy weather before winter.

It's called Indian summer—the time when Indians used to finish their autumn harvest of wild rice and corn.

To meteorologists at the University of Wisconsin, Indian summer is a "singularity." That is, it occurs many years, and at about the same time every year, but it doesn't always happen.

What is it? Actually there's some confusion over what really is Indian summer. According to University of Wisconsin meteorologists Indian summer has two parts. The first part comes at the end of September; the second in late October.

Often there is a spell of cold, nasty weather sandwiches in between.

Two periods of cool, nasty weather—caused by adventurous pieces of Arctic air on reconnaissance missions from the pole—put the accent on Indian summer, say the experts. Without the early September rainy spell, September Indian summer would be merely an extension of summer, and not much cause for comment. Early October is usually the "goat" for another spell of bad weather which contrasts with the late October half of Indian summer.

Details Missing
Meteorologists can't fill in all the details of what's causing Indian summer. It appears that the two separate parts of Indian summer have different causes. The September part is tied up with the huge sub-tropical high pressure area which lies over the Pa-

Wisconsin Real Estate Men to Meet

GREEN BAY — Green Bay real estate agents will be hosts to more than 400 delegates attending the Wisconsin Realtors Association annual convention here Oct. 16-18.

The convention, at the Northland hotel, will start at 1 p.m. Wednesday and end Friday afternoon.

Richard J. Bourguignon, Green Bay, said the program will include eight panel discussions by leaders in real estate, law, mortgage financing, public relations, sales and estate planning.

The annual Realtor of the Year presentation will be made Thursday during the dinner program. The board of directors will meet Wednesday to elect officers.

There will be a panel discussion Thursday morning on the state's new condominium law. A condominium is absolute ownership of a single unit in a multi-unit building and collective ownership of the common areas such as land, hallways and lounges. This is said to offer advantages over cooperative apartment ownerships.

Two Outagamie Girls Tearing 6 Counties

MADISON — A troupe of 42 4-H band and chorus members will tour six Northwestern Wisconsin counties Oct. 9-13.

The troupe was selected in try-outs at the State Fair from a group of 170 band and chorus members from all over the state. Two Outagamie county 4-H members, Peggy Sousek and Mary Bisenbeich, are in the traveling group.

As in previous years, it will be under the direction of Ed Huggdahl, chorus director and Paul Breske, band director. Edgar Parmenter, executive director of the Wisconsin 4-H Club Foundation will narrate.

Sunday Temperatures Up Fox Valley Records

New temperature records were set Sunday as the mercury in Fox Valley when the mercury climbed into the 90's.

Cities thermometers pushed to the low 80's and mid 90's in Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Iowa, Minnesota, Missouri and Indiana.

More Records
Thermometers Sunday registered 95 at Kansas City, Mo.; Chicago, Ill.; Des Moines, Ia.; Omaha, Neb., and at LaCrosse; Madison and Beloit; 90; Green Bay 88 and Milwaukee 89.

Temperatures during the night ranged from 47 at Park Falls to 65 at Milwaukee. Superior, Eau Claire and Green Bay had 50; Wausau 51, Lone Rock 54, LaCrosse 55 and Beloit 62.

Little Rainfall
A light drizzle was reported this morning at Manitowoc, Rhineland and Green Bay.

Unseasonably mild weather prevailed over most of the same area Monday. The warmer air is headed into the northeastern group of states.

Clouds covered areas along the northern tier of states, but the only wet spots were on the mountain areas of the west and extreme southeastern Florida which received only light showers.

Will America Quit Captive East Europe?

Some Feel We're Making Deals to Reduce Tensions

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—America's foreign policy is going through a critical stage. There is a growing feeling that, in order to "reduce tensions," secret diplomacy has taken over and that important concessions have been or will be made to the Soviets.

The peoples of Eastern Europe are reported to be most apprehensive about an American tendency to grant such concessions—as, for example, on the sale of wheat—without achieving anything in return.

Thus, former Vice President Nixon, in an article in this week's issue of "The Saturday Evening Post," says flatly that, while the signing of the test-ban treaty may have decreased the danger of war, "the danger of defeat without war has been substantially increased."

Mr. Nixon writes that "a great new Communist offensive is being launched against the free world, an offensive without resort to war, an offensive all the more dangerous because it is so difficult to recognize and to meet effectively." He adds:

"I believe that we are now entering a period of the greatest danger of Communist expansion in the free world since immediately after World War II."

Was Treaty Worth Price

Mr. Nixon, who has just returned from a trip to Europe, says that an American foreign policy adviser there said to him: "If the Kennedy administration had not watered down the captive nations resolution as it did this year, Khrushchev might never have agreed to the test ban."

Mr. Nixon doesn't believe that such an assumption is correct, but he asks, "was the test ban worth the price we paid? Did we sell out freedom for expediency?"

The former Vice President is well aware that during the Eisenhower administration the people of Hungary revolted against Soviet Rule and did not get the support they had hoped to receive from the United States. He admits that mistakes were made in 1956 when the Budapest revolution erupted. Conceding that it is easy to second-guess, he now believes that more should have been done than was done. He blames in part the fact that the British and French chose this very same time to use armed force in the Suez situation, while America felt that on principle it had to protest and rely on the United Nations. But he ruefully remarks that "Khrushchev did what he always does—uses the U.N. when it helps him and ignores it when it hurts him," and "we ended up with a debate

Joint U.S.-Russian Moon Venture Might Scrap Present Plans

HOUSTON (AP) — A leading United States space official said Friday that if the United States and the Soviet Union agreed on a joint Moon venture, both countries might have to scrap present programs and start from scratch.

"Only initial exploratory talks will determine this," Dr. Hugh Dryden, deputy administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, told a news conference.

President Kennedy last month proposed the two nations combine forces for lunar exploration. Dryden has been conducting talks for several months with Soviet representatives on possible U.S.-Soviet cooperation in many space programs.

Treasury Task Force Called 'Stacked' in Tax Exemption Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Wright Patman, a persistent critic of tax exemption rules for private foundations, says he thinks a Treasury task force looking into the question is stacked in favor of the foundations.

Patman's comment came as sources disclosed that the group of experts have held two closed-door meetings at the Treasury Department, the second one Friday.

Patman, a Texas Democrat, said he asked more than three weeks ago for a list of the task force's members but has not yet been informed.

concessions to the United States in the "Cold War"

The issue is hardly partisan. Though there are many Republicans who have criticized the trend of the Kennedy administration policy, there are lots of Democrats who have done the same. The fear seems to be that the Russians will persuade the State Department to agree to a "non-aggression" treaty as between the Warsaw pact countries and could then be attained. But, at the same time, those who are familiar with Eastern European affairs say it could be just a starting point for the complete abandonment by this country of the peoples in Eastern Europe who have depended so much on the moral support of the United States in their crusade for freedom.

It's Total Savings That Counts! Make Our

Just last week, Treasure Island introduced an entirely new concept in supermarket merchandising to Appleton. In that short time, hundreds of families have learned how simple and easy maximum savings can be made — what downright good sense Treasure Island's TOTAL SAVINGS PROGRAM made.

But some folks have been confused by claims and counter claims. They say, "How can we tell where we'll save the most?"

TREASURE ISLAND'S TOTAL SAVINGS PROGRAM is designed to assure customers of a lower tape total. So we say there's a simple answer to the question "How can we tell?"

Treasure Island suggests you make a "TAPE TEST." Buy your regular week's grocery order at Treasure Island. Then compare the Tape Total with what you would have spent elsewhere regardless of claims.

New pep for tired husbands!

No wonder so many women complain that their husbands come home "too tired out to sleep out!" The churning tensions millions of men face on their jobs constantly drain them of the energy and vitality they might otherwise have.

- That's why many doctors recommend supplementing the daily diet with Kretschmer Wheat Germ, nature's great "bounce-back" food. Made from the germinating heart of the wheat kernel, wheat germ is the most healthful food known, according to official U.S. Department of Agriculture studies of the nutritive values of foods.
- Kretschmer Wheat Germ actually provides a total of 80 natural balanced nutrients essential to good health, vigor and stamina! In addition, it acts like a spark plug to help the body use other high-energy foods more fully.
- Serve your husband this remarkable natural food every day for breakfast and see for yourself how much more zip and vitality he has!
- Use these delicious, tiny toasted flakes as a cereal, on cereals, or add to pancakes and scrambled eggs.
- Kretschmer Wheat Germ is great for the entire family, so be sure to get some. Look for it in vacuum-sealed glass jars in the cereal section of your food store. Choose either regular or Sugar 'N Honey.

An Artist's Language -- In Another Era

What started as a discussion in an Appleton High School Aesthetics class became a project of considerable proportions Friday and Saturday. Two students, David Ward and Perry Meadow, decided to test the theories advanced on a study of artists' styles and methods.

Adopting the premise that an artist is a mirror of his own society, and that what is acceptable in his own time might cause unusual reactions in different times, the two students set up prints of paintings by Manet, "Girl at the Folies Bergere", 1888-89, and one by Matisse, done in 1942. Manet's painting follows the realistic line, while Matisse's work is flat and two-dimensional, taking liberty with the figure and creating patterns of color.

Part of the project was the setting up of a tape recorder to note the reactions of viewers. Carried out Friday evening in Conkey's Book Store, the test brought unusual reactions as shoppers paused before the easels to comment. Some thought the works ugly, others saw great beauty, or expressed appreciation of the use of color. A few turned away in disgust. Others stayed to hold lively arguments.

All the comments will serve to create additional, and more informed discussion in the class, taught by Harold Carlson, in which the project idea originated.

Miss Ann Cooper, a Lawrence College senior, shopping on Friday evening, was one of many who paused in Conkey's Book Store to examine the paintings displayed by two high school Aesthetics class members, David Ward and Perry Meadow. She looked at the works of Manet and Matisse for a long time before commenting for the tape recorder. The boys will use the comments for further class discussion on reactions to works of other social periods.

Mrs. Nancy Hutchinsen, an Appleton French teacher, used her hands to tell of her reactions. At right, Sue Bahcall, an Appleton High School senior, bends close for better appreciation of the work. One of the works was realistic, the other employed a flat, two-dimensional technique. (Post-Crescent Photos by Ralph Acker)

Women Important In Civil Right Fight

BY MILDRED LAIB
Post-Crescent Correspondent

CLINTONVILLE — "This nation was founded on the principles that all men are created equal and the rights of every man are diminished when the rights of one man is threatened," said President John F. Kennedy, discussing the women's role in conquering nation's civil rights problem before representatives of women's organizations.

"I think it was one of the most worthwhile meetings I have ever attended," Mrs. Harold Weiland of 67 Elm St. president of the AFL-CIO National Auxiliaries said of the July 9 meeting which she attended in Washington, D.C. called by President John F. Kennedy to discuss aspects of the nation's civil rights problem.

President Kennedy called the conference of leaders of women's organizations from throughout the country to discuss the nation's civil rights problem in which women's organizations play an important role.

The President met with about 250 leaders of 100 women's organizations in the East Room of the White House.

The President greeted the women by assuring them that they represented a good deal of power. He said that he had called them together because the civil rights issue had increased in tempo in the last few weeks.

"I am asking for your help in making it easier for us to move ahead and to provide the kind of equality of treatment which we want for ourselves," Mrs. Weiland said on her return home in July.

The meeting was very stimulating and the message of the President met with real enthusiasm. The group was gravely aware of the urgency of action on civil and human rights.

The auxiliaries of the AFL-CIO are dedicated to the principle of equality of opportunity for all people regardless of race, creed, ancestry. We firmly believe that until American fulfills its promises of democracy and liberty we cannot claim we are really free in America.

In discussing her own personal views in the civil rights matter Mrs. Weiland said, "I believe like the majority of the people we like to be treated right and that is the way I like to treat people. If we would only practice the Golden Rule."

Then again I feel pretty much like President Kennedy when he said, "make sure that while private life remains private, that life in those areas which are public there is no discrimination."

I feel that we here in the North are quite complacent because we don't have the racial problems therefore we don't see and perhaps have the feeling that could be disturbing.

I feel that these people need help and that if we in our Christian hearts would lend a hand, we could perhaps solve the problems without any violence or bloodshed.

I also feel that one of the greatest problems is education and the lack of education does not put them in a competitive field and therefore is one of the reasons for the great percentage of unemployment among the Negro people.

"I feel that by bringing the women in after all these meetings the President has had with the various groups such as church groups, businessmen, etc., the President realized the power that lies within the women and their organizations. I feel this 'lip service' that can be rendered by these women reaches far and wide and without too much effort the human element can be brought forth."

Since attending the conference at Washington, Mrs. Weiland has talked to 15 auxiliaries and the Clintonville Lions Club. On Oct. 16 she has been invited to talk to the Clintonville Woman's Club and has received an invitation to speak at a meeting of the Marior Woman's Club.

Mrs. Weiland attended the first constitutional convention for the Auxiliaries of the State of Illinois at the Conrad-Hilton Chicago hotel for four days last week.

Next week Mrs. Weiland will go to Washington, D.C. to make the final arrangements for the national convention of the Auxiliaries to be held in New York City in November. Then in November she will be in New York City for about three weeks for the national convention board meetings and other allied matters. Mr. Weiland will accompany her on the trip.

She will complete her two-year term as president of the AFL-CIO National Auxiliaries in November. Previously she was state president for 20 years and resigned that office to accept the national presidency.

Auxiliary members Mrs. Weiland explained are the wives, daughters or sisters of a trade unionist or union member. She began her activity in Milwaukee where she was president of the Smith Steel Auxiliary for six years and president of the Milwaukee Council of Union Auxiliaries which office she also resigned after becoming state president.

Mr. and Mrs. Weiland came to Clintonville in 1946 and operated the Weiland's Restaurant for eight years. In 1954 they retired after 15 grandchildren.

Mrs. Berghuis Nuptial Vows Said By Couple

KAUKAUNA — Nuptial promises were exchanged at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday at Holy Cross Catholic Church by Miss Darlene Dietrich and Stanley Berghuis. The Rev. Andrew J. Quella officiated at the double ring rite.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Dietrich, 210 Gertrude St. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Peter Berghuis, 1321 N. Durkee St. and the late Mr. Berghuis.

Mrs. Charles Reiter, the bride's sister, served as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Jack Wydeven, Appleton, a sister of the bride, and Mrs. John Tetzlaff, De Pere.

Acting as best man was Charles Reiter, Jack Wydeven, and turning over operation of the restaurant to their son-in-law, Eugene Schellinger.

Mr. and Mrs. Weiland have two daughters, Mrs. Schellinger and Mrs. Milton Nelson, Milwaukee and 15 grandchildren.

John Dietrich, a brother of the bride, was groomsmen. Ushering duties were fulfilled by Nick Hietpas and Clarence Berghuis, Green Bay, a brother of the bridegroom.

Dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents, Van Abel's Restaurant, Hollandtown, was the setting for a reception and dance.

The bride was graduated from Kaukauna High School and is employed at Thilman's Pulp and Paper Co. Her husband, an alumnus of El Paso State High School, El Paso, Texas, is employed at the Wisconsin Michigan Power Co.

After a Canadian honeymoon, the newlyweds will reside at 804 1/2 Draper St.

A Lovelier You

Curves, Not Curls
A lovely asks: What's the secret of keeping the new smooth hair styles smooth? Mine either flies or droops. Being cut on the straight-away, I thought it would be easy to manage but it's not. The Answer: The current coils are deceptive. Owing to their simplicity, upkeep appears simple. And it really would be a snap, if the hair had plenty of body and a tendency to wave. Few heads, however, come by either of those assets naturally.
Fortunately both can be acquired via an "uncurlly" permanent, given on jumbo curlers. Regular spin curlers will not do the job, as they supply too much curl for a smooth "do."
Until recently, correctly sized jumbos, in four carefully graded dimensions, along with a specially formulated creme lotion and neutralizer, so that it is easily controlled.

The waving process is not complicated. You simply wind clean, damp hair onto the curlers, using the largest size for lift, the medium sizes for firmness, and the smallest size for stubborn nape strands. You apply the creme lotion to each tress before and after winding. Then you wait out a full zip to "taking period," neutralize, rinse, and set.
The result is smooth and sleek as you could wish. There are no curls to spoil the line. But there

Today's Etiquette
BY LOUISE DAVIS
HEARTLESS GIRL
Dear Louise: After my wedding invitations were delivered by the printer, they were addressed, stamped and ready to mail. Then my widowed mother died suddenly. Would it be permissible to send out these invitations anyway? Plans were made for a large morning wedding in church, then a breakfast for 150 people and a reception at night in a hall for 500 friends and relatives. We booked a band for dancing.
Louise Davis Answers:
It is incredible that you for one moment would consider going through with such plans. How could you possibly think of invitations being issued in the name of your deceased mother? How could you possibly be in such a mood as to think of a gay breakfast and a bang-up whing-ding at night? Such thoughts are beyond my wildest imagination and I can't conceive of your thinking.
I beg of you to scrap the invitations but save the stamped envelopes to be used for marriage announcements. (And please don't have them state that your late mother is doing the announcing.) If you still expect to be married on the same date, I also beg of you to cancel the evening reception and confine the breakfast to the immediate families. For such a handful of people, you would do the inviting to the church and breakfast by telephone.
I pray that you will show more respect for your mother by either postponing the wedding to an equally small one or by being quietly married on the original date with none of the trimmings that you had planned.

Ann Refuses to Open Home To Aid Lonely Hearts Club

BY ANN LANDERS
DEAR ANN: That letter from Gypsy, the middle-aged, rich widow who was willing to buy herself a husband started me thinking.

I know you don't believe in Lonely Hearts Clubs, and neither do I. But since you hear from so many fine people who yearn desperately for companionship you could perform a marvelous service by helping these lonely people find one another.

Of course you would have to screen the applicants carefully. They would be required to furnish you with character references written by a clergyman, a neighbor and an employer. You might even set up an interviewing bureau in your home so you could personally meet these people in a non-commercial setting and then decide which individuals should be brought together. You could match people according to religion, educational background, interests and so on. Think of the lives you could change. — JLP

DEAR JLP: It sure could change lives all right — including mine. All I need is a lonely hearts operation in my own home.

Playing cupid for strangers can be a dangerous, vicious business, and I don't care what high-sounding, respectable name you give it. Obviously there are many decent people who are lonely but I would not risk subjecting them to the opportunistic, unscrupulous characters whose lives are so messed up they must seek friendships with strangers.

This "getting people together" through the column pitch is made dozens of times every week and it will continue to get the same answer — no!

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Do you think parents should disown their children?

Both my son and daughter have made unfortunate marriages. My husband says so far as he is concerned they are dead. I am not apologizing for my children, Ann. They were of legal age when they botched up their lives, but that is their business and they are paying for their mistakes.

My husband will not permit our children to come to our home and he says I am being disloyal to him when I visit them in their homes. He becomes furious when he hears me talking to one of them on the phone. I love my children, in spite of their failures, and my grandchildren are a source of continuing pleasure. I couldn't bear to put them out of my mind.

This problem has caused considerable friction between my husband and me. Please express your views. — Ohio Mother

DEAR MOTHER: If your husband doesn't wish to see his children, that's his business. But he has no right to demand that you stay away from them.

Don't invite the children to your home when your husband is present, but go to their homes when you wish and above all, don't allow this tyrant to impose his will on you.

Marriage Announced

NEENAH — Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Kramer, 1101 E. Forest Ave., have announced the marriage of their daughter, Kira, to Jack Stiglich. The ceremony took place Sept. 26 at Milwaukee.

The bride, a graduate of Northwestern University, is employed in the Investment Trust Department of Harris Trust and Savings Bank, Chicago. The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Stiglich, Milwaukee, is a graduate engineering student at Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., where he will continue his studies for a Doctor of Philosophy degree in Metallurgy.

The couple will make their home in Chicago.

Style Show Plans Set by Moose Women

Final plans for their Tuesday evening style show were made at the Women of the Moose and my grandchildren are a source of continuing pleasure. I couldn't bear to put them out of my mind.

This problem has caused considerable friction between my husband and me. Please express your views. — Ohio Mother

DEAR MOTHER: If your husband doesn't wish to see his children, that's his business. But he has no right to demand that you stay away from them.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard G. McIntyre greeted guests at a 2:30 p.m. reception Saturday at the Elks Club. The couple was married at 12:15 p.m. at Sacred Heart Catholic Church. The bride is the former Miss Carol Ann Liethen. Shown with the newlyweds as they cut their

Parents' World

Boy Fusses for Bicycle, Then Refuses to Ride It

BY DR. EVE JONES

DEAR EVE JONES: My eight-year-old boy carried on for weeks about wanting a big two-wheel bike. We finally bought him one three weeks ago. But after falling off when I tried to help him ride it, he put it in the basement and now doesn't even try it. I feel like selling it. I'm so mad at him.

Why doesn't a child appreciate the gifts that parents get for him? — MRS. M.J.B.

That kind of question won't help matters at all.

Your son probably feels like a fool because he can't ride the bike, and he may be afraid you'll blame him even more for being clumsy than for not using the bike.

Ask your husband to take a newspaper, the bike, and your son to a park nearby. Then, after he has shown your son how to get on, ride, put on the brakes, and get off, he can read the paper while your son experiments. It doesn't help to have the handlebars held. Balancing is a natural instinct, so a few practice sessions should be all your boy needs.

DEAR EVE JONES: Why do parents continue to write you letters, day after day, when all they have to do to learn how to handle all their problems is to read some books on child care, including yours? If they're too stupid to be able to understand or read a book, she wears her high shoes that I don't see how they can read a newspaper either.

F.K.

Do you suppose she might be so accustomed to her high shoes that it will upset her for us to change

It isn't a question of intelligence — many university professors, ministers, lawyers, and school teachers write with questions, and they are obviously well educated.

The books don't cover all the specific combinations of events that bewilder parents. In my personal replies to letters, I try to tailor my suggestions to the situations writers describe and I try to avoid giving only general advice that may be difficult to apply in a particular case.

DEAR EVE JONES: Our one year old seems to walk much better when she's barefoot than when she wears her high shoes that I don't see how they can read a newspaper either.

Couple to Honeymoon In Chicago

St. Joseph Catholic Church was the setting at 10 a.m. Sept. 28 for the wedding of Miss Donna Mae Shandonav, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Van Beek, 727 W. Third St., and Richard Kilsdonk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Kilsdonk, 1110 Wilson St., Little Chute. The Rev. Nathaniel Sonntag, O.F.M., Cap. officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. Thomas Shandonav, a sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor. Mrs. Ronald Kilsdonk, sister-in-law, and Mrs. Roy Brownell, sister of the bridegroom and Mrs. Norman Van Beek, sister-in-law of the bride, were bridesmaids.

Acting as best man was Ronald Kilsdonk, the bridegroom's brother. Norman Van Beek and Thomas Shandonav, the bride's brothers, and Roy Brownell, the bridegroom's brother-in-law, were groomsmen. Usual duties were fulfilled by Herbert Kilsdonk, brother of the bridegroom, and Roger Van Beek, the bride's brother.

A wedding dinner was held at Hammen's Club, Little Chute. The wedding supper, reception and dance were held at Pine Castle Ballroom, Sevigny.

The bride was graduated from the Divine Savior Preparatory School, Milwaukee. She is employed at the Outagamie County Bank. Her husband, an alumnus of St. John High School, Little Chute, is employed at Thimney Pulp and Paper Co., Kaukauna.

The couple has planned a wedding trip to Chicago. They will live at 704 McKinley St., Little Chute.

Miss Pennings

Betrothal of Miss Pennings Is Announced

LITTLE CHUTE — Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Laurie Pennings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Pennings, 730 E. Main St., to Lawrence Schabo, son of Mrs. Robert Schabo, 3030 N. Morrison St., Appleton, and the late Mr. Schabo.

Miss Pennings was graduated from Kaukauna High School and is employed by the Wisconsin Telephone Co., Appleton. Her fiancé is an alumnus of Appleton High School and is with the Lee Tennesen Painting and Decorating firm, Appleton.

No wedding date has been set.

Missionary League Schedules Rally

The Rev. Thomas Going, a Lutheran missionary to Japan, will be featured speaker Thursday at the annual Fall Rally of Zone Five includes churches in Arherst, Bear Creek, Big Falls, Fremont, Kaukauna, Manawa, Symco and Appleton.

General rally chairman is Mrs. Arnold Grummer.

After a coffee hour at 10 a.m., the Rev. H. P. Hilgendorf of Good Shepherd Lutheran Church will lead the morning Bible study.

Rev. Thomas Going

Mrs. Henry Mortensen, Manawa, will report on the International Lutheran Women's Missionary League convention held at Kansas City, Mo., in July.

Pastor Going will speak in the afternoon. He has been a Missouri Synod missionary to Japan since 1958. He was graduated from Weyauwega High School, attended Bethany College, Mankato, Minn., and was graduated from Concordia Seminary, Springfield, Ill. He and his family will return to Japan after their furlough in the U.S.

The league is an international organization composed of women of the Lutheran Church, Missouri

Kaukauna Elks to Hold Dinner Dance

KAUKAUNA — A harvest dinner dance will open the social season for the Kaukauna Elks at 8:30 p.m. Oct. 12 at the Elks Club.

The affair will open with a cocktail hour followed by a 7:30 p.m. dinner.

OH, LADY!

man made a very pretty play. Fortunately for the Los Angeles expert, the defense was not equally pretty.

West opened the seven of hearts. East put up the queen, and Reichman paused for thought. He was surely going to lose a heart, a spade, and a club. The problem was to prevent West from ruffing a heart.

Reichman solved his problem by dropping the jack of hearts at the first trick. Back came a low heart, and declarer was able to play low from his own hand, winning in dummy with the nine.

Having arrived in dummy, declarer was able to cash the ace of diamonds, discarding the ace of hearts from his hand. This discard was a key play, since it removed the danger of a heart ruff by West.

Reichman could lead a trump from dummy, ruff high when East returned a heart, draw trumps, and take two finesses in clubs. Since one club finesse worked, declarer lost only one club, one heart, and one spade.

Of course, you've seen the defensive error. East should see what is going on when South drops the jack of hearts on his queen. At the second trick, East should return the king of hearts instead of a low heart.

South must take the ace of hearts but cannot reach dummy to discard a heart on the ace of diamonds. (If South leads a club to dummy's ace, he will eventually lose two club tricks instead of only one.) When East gets in with the ace of spades he leads a third heart for West to ruff.

Answer: Bid one heart. Avoid opening with 1 NT when you have a 5-card major suit, particularly when you have a 4-card side suit. A 5-4-2-2 distribution is far from ideal for notrump.

7 Injured in Winnebago Accidents

Five Hurt in 2 Car Crash Near Larsen

OSHKOSH — Seven persons were injured in Winnebago County traffic accidents late Saturday and Sunday, seriously.

Five were injured in a two car crash on County Trunk T one-half mile east of Larsen at 9:45 p.m. Saturday. Taken to Theda Clark Memorial Hospital were: Laurin Boushley, 20, 401 W. North Water St., Neenah, driver of one car; Ronald Burnett, 46, 1112 Winnebago Ave., Neenah, driver of the other car; his wife, Patricia, Lee Marceau, 41, Chicago, and his wife, Fern, all passengers in the Burnett auto.

Boushley is in serious condition with head injuries while Barnett and Marceau are listed in satisfactory condition. Marceau suffered multiple fractures of his right leg while Burnett received chest and knee injuries. Mrs. Barnett and Mrs. Marceau were treated for cuts and bruises and released.

According to Winnebago County police, Boushley was traveling northwest on County Trunk T and lost control of his car on a curve and the vehicle skidded in front of the Burnett auto which was going southeast.

Russell Parker, 26, 918 Tayco St., Menasha, is in serious condition with a cerebral contusion and cuts to his head, right arm and right leg received when his car left Winnebago County Trunk T three miles south of Neenah and sideswiped two trees before hitting a third tree head on. The accident happened about 12:10 a.m. Sunday.

Edwin Kurkowski, 45, 129 Lake St., Neenah, suffered a minor head injury at 6:25 p.m. Sunday when a car driven by Aloy Stutz, 49, 1028 Kansas St., Oshkosh, attempted to make a left turn in front of the Kurkowski auto on U.S. 45 three miles north of Oshkosh.

Stolen Car

MENASHA — Police have begun a search for the auto of Mrs. Lois Manderfield, 112 Appleton St., Menasha, which was reported missing from the Manderfield residence this morning.

The car is a 1960 Ford station wagon, two-tone blue and cream colored, license number G36-942, Miss Flynn.

New Books

Author Writes About Dominant Women

In "The Tilsit Inheritance," one of the new books at the Appleton Public Library, Catherine Gaskin has once again, as in "Sarah Dane," chosen to build her story around dominant women.

Ginny Tilsit did not know her own strength until she found herself pitted against her aunt Isobel, who turned up at the convent in Puerto Rico with demands. Ginny refused to meet. In her very refusal Isobel sensed her strength to carry on the Tilsit tradition, and in her strange will she made Ginny her heir, with the acceptance of the inheritance fenced in with mandatory restrictions.

Ginny's father had lived out his life of exile without ever sharing his secret. Ginny's mother, of Dutch extraction on a sugar island still Dutch-owned, urged her acceptance of the inheritance, at least on a trial basis. And Ginny, with only the superficial preparation of a year of trial and error in New York to break the bonds of her island upbringing, goes to England to face a family shattered by this discovery of an unknown cousin.

Holding Story
The book is a fascinating portrait of a tradition of the past, an industry and one of the great houses of England. It is a holding story with considerable romance, adventure and atmosphere.

In translation from the Hungarian, "Budapest AA338" by Stephen Vajda, is an artful little story of a 29-year-old judge, L.S., who is forced to hand down a sentence on a woman with whom he has fallen in love.

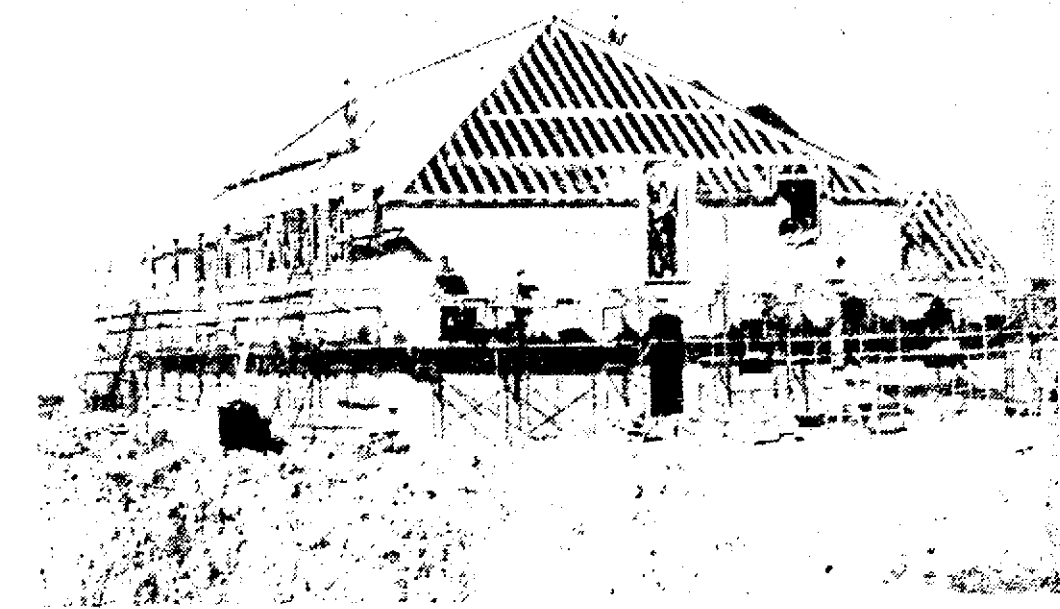

In an earlier case, L.S. is indignant when a colleague takes the teeth out of the law by suspending sentence on another woman. Soon, however, the tables turn and L.S. sees that he will have to judge a strikingly beautiful girl, Judith. He sends her to jail for six months and never sees her again. As an aftermath, L.S. slyly provokes his superiors so that they punish him by exiling him to a little town of no importance.

Ironic Footnote
While for most of the book L.S. is seen as an overly self-conscious small official, it is in the last ironic footnote that he is revealed as a Lothario who left a trail of broken hearts, among them Judith's. A well-told story within its small and perhaps limited scope.

Other new books include "Run to Daylight!" by Vincent Lombardi for Packer fans, and several other biographies: "Polemac Squire," by Elswyth Beebe, "O.E.: Historian Without an Armchair" by Otto Eisenschiml, "Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes" by Mark Howe, "St. Francis Xavier" by Jean Montguerre, and "Judah Benjamin" by Simon Neiman.

Also new are books ranging from "Corporations in Crisis" by Richard Smith to "A Horse of Your Own" by M. A. Stoneridge, from "The Devotion to Our Lady" by Hilda Graef to "Book of Football" by Allie Sherman, from "The Cosmopolitan Cat" by Beulah Roth to "The Battle for Guadalcanal" by Samuel Griffith.

Other new books are "The Best American Short Stories, 1963," "Best Cartoons of the Year 1963," "The Eastern Rebellion" by Malachy Caulfield, "Natural Law and Modern Society" by the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions, "When All Is Said and Done" by Rose Franken, "Greenland Journal" by Rockwell Kent, "The Middle Passage" by Vidya-dhar Naipaul, "The Abolitionists" by Louis Ruchames, and "Coin

Construction Is Progressing on the new convent being built by St. Bernadette Catholic Parish in southeast Appleton. The convent is part of an $800,000 building program in which the parish also is building a school and rectory. Construction is planned for completion by next summer, and the school will open in the fall of 1964. The parish will build a church later on the same site. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Neenah Library Cornerstone Ceremony Scheduled Sunday

Mayor, Retired Minister Among Guest Speakers

NEENAH — Arrangements are set for the cornerstone dedication of the new $340,000 Neenah Library addition, according to Miss Kathryn Flynn, librarian. The Rev. L. C. Smith, a retired Presbyterian minister now living in Appleton, will deliver the invocation.

Invitations have been sent to city officials, aldermen and the library board members, she said. Verne G. Wilson, president of the library board of trustees, will preside at the ceremonies.

The cornerstone program will feature a greeting to those in attendance from Mayor Carl E. Loehning, and a description and presentation of the contents in the cornerstone box by William E. Hug, library board member.

The actual pointing up of the cornerstone ceremonies will be handled by Loehning, Wilson and William Schroeder, building custodian, Miss Flynn said.

Among the guests at the ceremony will be Roy Ginnow of Boettcher and Ginnow, Inc., who designed the building addition, and the library staff, represented by

Mayors to Confer

Municipal Building Study Meeting Asked

MENASHA—Mayor John Klein this morning said he will seek a meeting this week with Neenah Mayor Carl Loehning to consider setting up a study on the feasibility of a joint city hall for the two cities.

The mayor said he will then take the pros and cons of the meeting and present them to the council for an opinion and ask Loehning to do the same in Neenah.

Willing to Discuss

The mayor gave no definite date for the meeting but said it will be this week.

Both mayors said they were willing to discuss holding a study of a joint municipal center in the two cities two weeks ago.

Several Twin City organizations endorsed a study of the feasibility of a joint city hall. Included were the Chamber of Commerce, the Neenah Retail Merchants Association; the advancement committee of the Chamber of Commerce; the League of Women Voters and Assemblyman David O. Martin. Several Neenah aldermen also have apparently stated their willingness for a study.

The study would be to determine whether it would be beneficial to Neenah-Menasha to build a joint city hall rather than have separate facilities.

Charge Woman Driver With Leaving Scene Of Neenah Accident

NEENAH — An Appleton woman was charged with leaving the scene of an accident and operating a vehicle without a valid driver's license by Neenah police after a car she was driving was involved in a collision Wednesday on Main Street just east of Lake Street. The report was posted today.

Carol L. Thomach, route 4, Appleton, is scheduled to appear in County Court Branch 3, Wednesday on the charges. According to police reports the car she was driving ran into the rear of a car driven by Gordon J. Schleicher, 43, 910 Sherry St., Neenah, who was going east on Main Street.

She reportedly failed to stop after the accident and was discovered to be without a valid driver's license when finally reached by the police. Damage was minor.

Collecting in a Nutshell" by Ted Wear.

New novels include "The Franciscan" by Forrester Blake, "Dehlah's Mountain" by Gloria Jato-da, "A Place for Murder" by Emma Lathen, "The Innocent Curate" by Paris Leary, "A Murder of Quality" by John Le Carre, "Run to Evil" by Elizabeth Lington, "The Chinese Garden" by Rosemary Manning, "Rebel in Blue" by Herman Toepperwein, "The Seed and the Sower" by Laurens Van der Post, and "Shadow of Peril" by Alexandr Zhdanov.

New Discovery Now Makes It Possible To Shrink And Heal Hemorrhoids Without Surgery

Stops Itch — Relieves Pain In Minutes

New York, N. Y. (Special): A world-famous institute has discovered a new substance which has the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids without surgery. The sufferer first notices almost unbelievable relief in minutes from itching, burning and pain. Then this substance speeds up healing of the injured tissues all while it quickly reduces painful swelling.

Tests conducted under a doctor's observations proved this so — even in cases of 10 to 20 years' standing. The secret is the new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — now offered in both ointment or suppository form called Preparation H®. In addition to actually shrinking piles — Preparation H lubricates and makes bowel movements less painful. It helps to prevent infection (a principal cause of hemorrhoids).

Only Preparation H contains this magic new substance which quickly helps heal injured cells back to normal and stimulates regrowth of healthy tissue again. Just ask for Preparation H Ointment or Preparation H Suppositories (easier to use away from home). Available at all drug counters.

City Workers Of Menasha Ask Pay Hike

Local 1035 Wants Short Work Week, Overtime Payment

MENASHA — Local 1035 Menasha City Employees Union, AFL-CIO, this morning announced they have requested negotiations with the city on the 1964 contract, which includes requests for a 3 per cent pay raise and shorter working week.

The union requests, in general, are almost identical to those sought in the 1963 work contract. They are:

—Reduction in hours of work to a standard work week of 40 hours per week with no loss in pay as a result of the reduction in hours, and overtime payment after completion of eight hours of work per day and/or 40 hours per week, plus a general increase of 3 per cent in the wage rates.

—Payment of the full premium of the present medical and surgical benefits insurance for all employees and payment in addition of 75 per cent of the family coverage premium for married employees.

—Provide for compensation equal to regular pay for any employee off on a workman's compensation disability and such additional amount beyond statutory benefits not to be charged to sick leave.

The petition for negotiations was presented by Earl Kohler, president of local 1035: Reuben Brandtmeier, secretary - treasurer; and Robert W. Swanson, union representative of the AFL-CIO.

Last year the local asked for a 40 hour work week with continuance of the 42½ hour week pay; a three-week vacation period after 10 years of employment; an increase in rate of pay for the assistant mechanic and painter-meter man, and a 20 per cent increase in the amount paid for medical insurance.

An earlier demand in 1963 was that street crews be given a 3 per cent pay increase voted for all city employees in addition to the four point request. The demand was subsequently dropped. Most of the demands were not met. The union lost the 40 hour week and pay raise along with other requests.

No date for negotiations has been set.

Cite Army Reserve Employee for Service

MENASHA — Eugene C. Cardinal, 745 Carver Lane, Menasha, administrative supply technician for the Second Battalion, 274th U.S. Army Reserve, reported smoke was so thick from burning leaves she couldn't "see her hand before her face." There was no complaint made.

Richard Heindl, 652 Manitowoc St., reported his son's bicycle stolen from the Heindl garage around 6:30 p.m. Sunday, for the only report of a theft received by police during the weekend.

Mari Taniguchi Recital Matched Autumn Color

BY DON VORPAHL

On Sunday afternoon, while autumn worked a spell of blazing colors and gentle breezes, a charming Lawrence Conservatory faculty singer, soprano Mari Taniguchi, captured a Harper Hall recital audience with the equally vivid elements of her vocal artistry.

Miss Taniguchi's recital, the second in this season's faculty series, was a canvas painted with bold contrasts.

She ranged from the dramatic Beethoven requiem "Ah, perfido!" to the lyricism of Richard Strauss; from the orchestral breadth of Berlioz songs to the intimacies of others by Poulenc; from the pleadings of Puccini's "Mimi" to the conversational lament of Menotti's "Laetitia."

Certainly everyone present should have found something to please his tastes, the contrasts were that sharp. It is also probable that some listeners found material for searing comparisons of the composers represented, or for the case against academic programming. But no one present would deny experiencing a splendid stylistic exhibition and a genuinely warm presentation.

Operatic Stylist

Miss Taniguchi is an especially fine singer when she tackles operatic styles. Trained in the Italian operatic tradition, she sings Mimi's "Addio" from "La Boheme," as though nothing but opera exists for her. In "Laetitia's Aria" from "The Old Maid and the Thief," she is similarly at home. Yet, more than opera exists in her bag of skills, and in particular, it is the French song.

Yesterday she sang the Berlioz "Les Nuits d'Été, Op. 7," and the Poulenc "Flanccailles pour Rire."

In both cases the poetic inflection of her French was true, her manner convincing, and her production fitted to the stylistic framework she dealt with.

These, by the way, are two sets of exquisite songs.

The Berlioz, originally for piano, and then for orchestra, is a splendid vocal showcase, tingled with color, and overflowing with sincerity.

Poulenc's songs have all the right little turns and captivations to jar most any listener. In their French way, they are much like the earlier songs of Strauss. Miss Taniguchi programmed, alive, exuberant, and direct. Their accompaniments contribute in large measure to these qualities.

Fine Accompaniment

This brings to mind the pianistic elements of this program, the responsibility of James Ming, a faculty associate of Miss Taniguchi.

Ming's playing was very well done. In the opening work, the Beethoven, he was faced with a nasty bit of technical content, and brought it off with the aplomb Lawrence concert fans are accustomed to in his appearances.

But despite credit due to the gentleman, we must also give a big vote of confidence for the new Harper Hall Steinway grand, an arrival of the past week.

The instrument is one of the best we have seen or heard. It responds effortlessly from the smallest sound to the greatest and promises many fine moments in forthcoming programs at Lawrence.

Chase of Speeder Ends When Patrol Car Hits Trailer

An Outagamie County traffic patrolman escaped injury when his squad car was involved in a collision with a trailer being pulled by a car on U.S. 10 near State 76 Sunday night.

Patrolman Orville Crane said he was in pursuit of a speeding automobile heading east on 10 when a car and trailer driven by Richard L. Reichardt, 21, Sheboygan, pulled onto 10 from 76 and into Crane's lane of traffic. Crane car did not have its siren and red light operating when he collided with the trailer loaded with household goods. He said he was attempting to clock the speeder when the Reichardt car pulled into his path.

The squad car went into a ditch in the middle of the roadway and bounced back onto the road. Police said household goods from the trailer was strewn a city block along the highway. Reichardt was not injured.

Hess Again Heads State Printer Group

Clarence Hess, Milwaukee, was re-elected president of the Wisconsin Typographical Conference at the 43rd annual convention held Saturday and Sunday at Appleton Green Bay was selected as host for the 1964 meeting.

Also re-elected was Edmund Muehl, Milwaukee, secretary, treasurer. New officer is Fred Mason, Madison, who succeeded Harry Kintzler, Racine, as vice president.

Sandy Bevis, second vice president of the International Typographers Union, Colorado Springs, Colo., was principal speaker for the convention. He explained functions of the international organization.

Because of conflicts with World Series and Green Bay Packers football games, the conference changed convention dates from October to the first Saturday and Sunday in May.

In other actions, the group voted to raise the convention fee to $2, tabled until next year a proposal for a quarterly newsletter and chose Fond du Lac for the annual bowling tournament.

Appleton Man Arrested For Starting Fire in Car Back of Tavern

Fire Prevention Week started with a timely reminder Sunday when Appleton firemen and police men cooperated in an arrest of an Appleton man whose cigarette started a car fire 75 minutes after the special week started.

Police said Royden V. VanderVoort, 45, 3020 W. Wisconsin Ave., has posted a $25 bond and will appear Friday in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 to face charges of disorderly conduct.

Firemen were called to the rear of Remter's Tavern, 1042 W. Wisconsin Ave., about 1:15 a. m., where a fire was extinguished in the rear seat of a car owned by Julian Van Stippout, 1609 Green Bay St., Kaukauna. VanderVoort, 45, told authorities he went into the car to sleep and dropped the cigarette, he said.

Red Wheat Sales Won't End Surplus

America Has Enough Grain in Storage to Feed Citizenry For More Than Two Years

BY OVID A. MARTIN
Associated Press Farm Writer reports

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Present American supplies are ample to meet anticipated domestic and export demands for at least 18 months, probably 20 months in the meantime, another crop—next year's—will be grown and harvested.

Poor Red Crops

The plentiful American supply situation is in sharp contrast to that of the Soviet Union and some of its satellites. Because of poor crops and less skill in production than possessed by American farmers, the Soviets have found it necessary to turn to Canada, Australia and Western Europe—and now possibly the United States—for supplementary wheat.

Saturday, diplomatic sources reported Hungary has told the United States it is ready to buy 800,000 tons — about 30 million bushels—of American grain.

Other informants said Cargill, Inc., of Minneapolis, one of the big American grain processors and shippers already has requested an export license from the Commerce Department.

Czechs Interested

It was also reported that the Czech and Bulgarian embassies in Washington have expressed interest in buying about $60 million of American grain.

Last Friday the State Department said there have been approaches from the governments of the three Communist countries for the purchase of American wheat. The government owns what is popularly referred to as a big wheat surplus—supplies produced in past years and turned over to the Agriculture Department under farm price supports. This quantity was 1,026,000,000 bushels as of Aug. 31.

Called Reserve

Farm officials object to the tagging of its wheat as surplus grain. They say it should more accurately be described as a reserve and surplus supply. They say it is in the public interest to maintain a reserve of at least 400 million bushels to protect against crop failure or other national emergencies.

The government's stocks have been supplemented by this year's crop of 1,134,000,000 bushels. The bulk of this grain is owned by producers, grain merchants and warehousemen. Some already has been consumed and some exported.

Americans consume about 500 million bushels a year and use about 155 million annually for livestock feed and seed. They have been exporting more than 600 million bushels annually in recent years.

Antique Stolen

LINZ, Austria (AP) — A picture frame of pure gold, once owned by Emperor Napoleon and valued at $12,000, was reported stolen Sunday. Police searched for two men in connection with the theft from a private home.

11 Killed on State Roads Over Weekend

Bloody Toll for 1963 Totals 661, 54 Less Than '62

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Weekend traffic crashes in Wisconsin claimed at least 11 lives as warm weather, fall scenery, hunting and sports events drew thousands to the highways.

The deaths raised the state's 1963 traffic toll to 661, compared with 715 a year ago today.

Mary L. Kauth, 17, of Route 2, Grafton, was injured fatally Sunday night when the car she was driving left Highway 141 about three miles south of Oostburg and flipped end over end. She died at St. Alphonsus Hospital in Port Washington.

Among those killed during the weekend was W. E. Thurston, 73, of Durand, a former district attorney of Pepin County. He was injured fatally Saturday in a collision between his car and an automobile in which seven teenage youths were riding on Highway 63 a mile west of Ellsworth in Pierce County.

Denis R. Zieloski, 24, of Kewaunee was injured fatally Sunday when his car overturned after going out of control on Kewaunee County Trunk B about four miles north of Tisch Mills. He was alone in the vehicle.

Two young people died Friday night when a car left Highway 40 four and a half miles south of Bruce in Rusk County and struck a tree. They were 17-year-old Dale Grubb of rural Bruce and 13-year-old Sandra Parthier of Ladysmith.

Henry C. Gelder, 73, of Galesville, was killed Sunday when he was struck by a car as he walked across Highway 53, a half-mile south of Frenchville, to his own automobile.

Lavern Alvin, 27, of rural Richland Center, died of a crushed chest suffered Saturday when his car and another collided near Spring Green.

Raymond Widder, 52, of Milwaukee, was struck and killed by a car as he walked across a street near his home, and Joseph Creech, 78, Waukesha, died in the collision of his car and a freight train at a crossing in Waukesha. Both accidents occurred Saturday.

John Streveler, 19, of Germantown was killed late Sunday night when the car in which he was riding went out of control on Highway 145 on the outskirts of Germantown and overturned. Streveler was crushed beneath the auto. A companion, Jerome Goetz, 18, of West Bend, was hospitalized in West Bend in serious condition.

Mark Sheslo, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Sheslo of Milwaukee, was injured fatally Sunday when he was struck by a car in front of his home.

Fiance Found Dead

Coast Guard Ends Lake Search for Girl

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Coast Guard called off its search late Sunday for the body of a young woman who presumably drowned when a boat capsized. A few hours later, her fiance was found dead in his car, an apparent suicide.

Marjorie Keel, 22, daughter of Mrs. Leona Keel of Lowell in Dodge County, had been missing since Saturday night when a 16-foot boat was overturned by a wave in the Milwaukee Harbor. Three other persons aboard the outboard-powered craft were rescued—Miss Keel's fiance Harrison D. Seeley III, 23, of Milwaukee, who had been piloting the vessel; Shirley Straw, 29, West Allis, and John Zacarno, 32, of Milwaukee. They were picked up by a passing boat. Miss Keel and Seeley were to have been married Nov. 1.

No Trace Found

All-day dragging and diving operations failed to turn up any trace of the girl. The search was discontinued and authorities expressed the opinion the undercurrents might have carried her body out into Lake Michigan.

Capt. George Kosalos of the Milwaukee County sheriff's department said a vacuum cleaner hose had been attached to the exhaust pipe of Seeley's car, the other end placed through the left rear window. Officers found a note alongside the body. It read: "I'm not going when a boat capsized. A few hours later, her fiance was found dead in his car, an apparent suicide."

Pope Elevates U. S. Native to Archbishopric

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Boston-raised son of an Italian emigrant has been made an archbishop by Pope Paul VI and named apostolic delegate to Britain, the Vatican announced Saturday.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Igino Cardinal, chief of protocol in the Vatican Secretariat of State, will succeed the late Archbishop Gerald O'Hara in the London diplomatic post with the personal title of archbishop.

Msgr. Cardinale, 47, was born in Fondi, Italy, while his father was temporarily back in his homeland to serve in the Italian army in World War I. The father, Gaetano, took his family back to Boston in 1918 and Igino grew up there.

Marchers included members of the Polish army in exile. Some signs in the parade read: "We demand free elections in Poland."

At a dinner climaxed Pulaski Day festivities, Brockway McMillan, undersecretary of the Air Force, announced that President Kennedy has proclaimed next Friday as General Pulaski Memorial Day.

Count Casimir Pulaski of Poland was killed fighting for American independence in the Revolutionary War.

Nixon Blames Kennedy In Part for Crisis In U. S. Civil Rights

Asserts JFK Didn't Live Up to Extravagant Promises, Gestures

WASHINGTON (AP) — Richard M. Nixon charged today that A. Rockefeller of New York are the nation's "civil rights crisis is not so great as the public to a great extent" President Kennedy's fault.

Nixon said it is "due to the fact that having made some symbolic gestures in the campaign and some extravagant promises about what he was going to do, he did nothing but give his civil rights program lip service."

"As a result," Nixon said in an exclusive copyright interview in the current issue of U. S. News and World Report, "a tremendous emotional development occurred which resulted in the demonstrations."

Nixon's comments were in response to the question: "On civil rights, would you have used troops in Alabama and Mississippi if you had been president?"

The former vice president, Kennedy's opponent in the 1960 presidential election, added:

"I think that anybody sitting in the White House, with the lines of communication that he has, knew that this crisis was going to come up. And what could have avoided it would have been for the President of the United States, with his immense prestige, to call in the governors of the critical states, sit them down and tell them, without any equivocation, what was going to happen in the event that they did not comply with the law of the land."

Had No Choice

"Now, I'm confident that, had that been done, the situation would not have developed to the point that it did. But once it had developed to that point, then the President of the United States had no choice but to enforce the law of the land and to use whatever means was necessary."

Rejecting once again any notion that he will seek the Republican presidential nomination in 1964, Nixon ranged far and wide in his discussion of politics.

On Republican affairs:

—Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., "has a very substantial lead" for the nomination and "if he continues at his present pace nobody will be able to overtake him."

—"When you dig deeper on particular issues," the differences be-

Packers Run Up 418-Yard Total on 84-Degree Day; Defense Again Shines

BY ART DALEY
Post-Crescent News Service
GREEN BAY — The Packers opened the beautiful Sunday afternoon with a 98-yard kickoff return by Herb Adderley for a touchdown and closed it with an impressive 42 to 10 victory over the Rams in City Stadium.

In between, the Bay offense was exploded for the first time this season and the Packers just plain ran away from their California guests with a 418-yard offense and a stifling defense.

Unseasonal 84-degree weather provided a gorgeous setting for the 42,329 spectators and the Packers made the record weather day most unforgettable.

The Rams slugged it out with the champions in the first half and held the Bays down to a 15-10 edge at the intermission, but the Packers unleashed a 20-point third quarter to win going away. The "relief" team played most of the fourth period and counted seven points.

The Packers thus became the unbeaten (4-0) Bears' closest pursuer, ranking one game back with a 3-1 mark. Green Bay now takes to the road, meeting the Vikings at Minnesota Sunday, while the Bears visit Los Angeles.

This was Bart Starr's day to howl and the veteran quarterback, who said he wasn't up to snuff in the first three games, uncorked touchdown passes 27, 53 and 19 yards to Jim Taylor, Max McGee and Ron Kramer, respectively, and guided the team 88 yards in

King Hill Helps Eagles Defeat Dallas, 24-21

Fires Two TD Passes Including One for 80 Yards to Brown

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — King Hill passed for two touchdowns, one an 80-yarder to Timmy Brown and set up two other scores with aerials as the Philadelphia Eagles defeated Dallas 24-21 Sunday for their first National Football League win of the season.

A 12-yard field goal by Mike Clark, set up by Hill's 46-yard pass to Pete Retzlaff, proved to be the difference as the Cowboys scored twice in the final period. One Dallas TD was set up by a 47-yard return with an interception of a Hill pass.

Brown scored a second touchdown from two yards out after a 21-yard Hill-to-Retzlaff pass put the ball on the Dallas 2.

Amos Bullocks scored twice for Dallas on runs of four and one yards, the latter coming after Don Bishop stole a Hill pass, went five yards and lateraled to Jerry Tubbs who was stopped one yard from a touchdown.

1-2-1 Mark

The victory gave the Eagles a 1-2-1 record, while Dallas suffered its fourth loss without a victory in the NFL's Eastern Conference. Hill, starting his first game of the season, also threw a six-yard scoring pass to fullback Clarence Peaks. The score was set up by Hill's 14-yard pass to Ralph Smith on the Dallas 14. Peaks scored on the 11th play of a 65-yard drive after the second half kickoff.

The Eagles held a 14-7 halftime advantage, with a Dallas touchdown coming on Bullock's four-yard run capping a 68-yard drive. In the final period, Amos Marsh ended an 80-yard drive with a four-yard burst. Bill Howton caught three passes for 74 yards in the drive.

Hill, who started in place of the injured passing ace Sonny Jurgensen, completed 12 of 20 passes for 235 yards. His performance was backed up by a strong running attack led by Brown, who had 91 yards in 19 carries.

Dodgers Complete Sweep of Series

Koufax Wins 2-1 Battle From Ford

BY JOE REICHLER

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Dodgers' incredible four game World Series sweep over the New York Yankees could be the start of a new dynasty and the end of an old one.

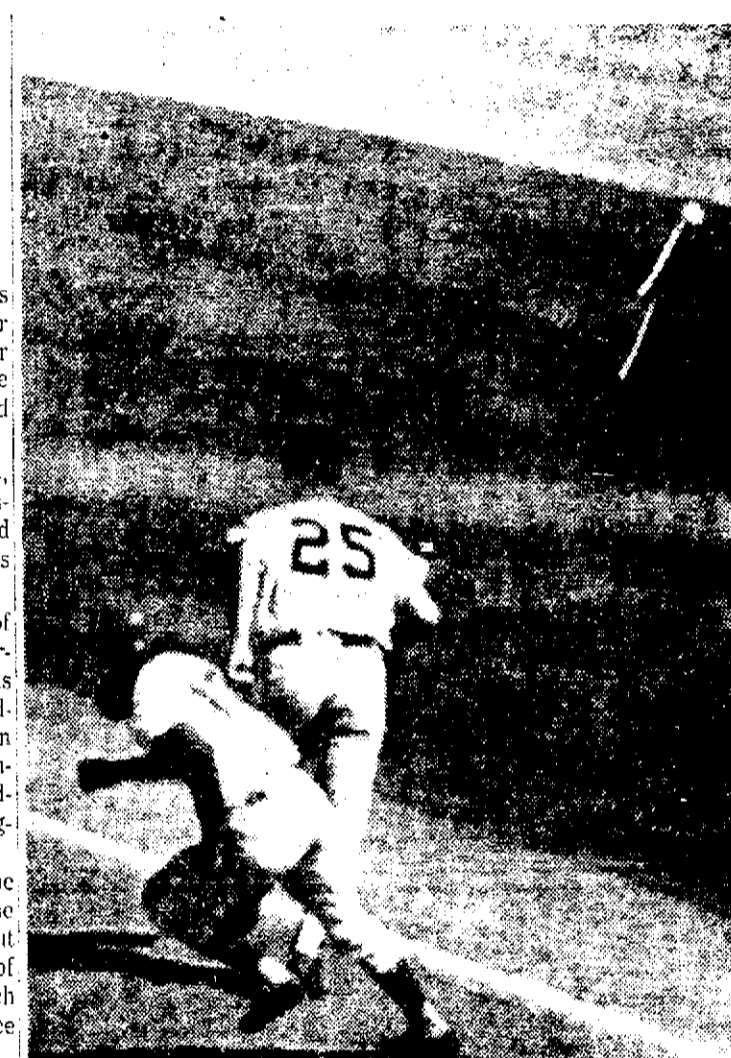

The world champion Dodgers, loaded with youth, speed, confidence, pep and pitching, could rule the National League for years to come.

The ability to draw upwards of two million annually in this ever-growing area and their spacious new stadium is bound to pour additional millions of dollars into an already bulging treasury and enable the front office to pay handsome bonuses to promising youngsters.

The humiliating four game downfall not only is a loss to the Yankees' pride and prestige but is bound to encourage the rest of the American League clubs which have acted as puppets on Yankee strings for many, many years.

Sandy Koufax' brilliant work Sunday in the 2-1 Dodger haymaker proved again what the Dodgers had shown during the entire Series—that strong pitching can beat good hitting, even such power-hitting teams as the Yankees.

The three Dodger starters—Johnny Podres, Don Drysdale and Koufax, with a one-inning assist

New York First Baseman Joe Pepitone (25) chases down the ball in the seventh inning in Los Angeles Sunday after letting throw from Cleto Boyer get away for a 3-base error. # Bukich Comes Off Bench to Lead Bears to 10-3 Victory

Reserve Signal Caller Hits on Touchdown Pass

BY JOE MOOSHL

CHICAGO (AP) — Old Men usually find it difficult to change their minds. But owner-coach George Halas is an unusual old man and has no qualms about making abrupt switches.

He switched in several directions Sunday and as a result kept his beloved Bears undefeated with a come-from-behind 10-3 victory over the Baltimore Colts in the National Football League.

The Bears had won three straight on the road with Bill Wade doing the quarterbacking. Wade's formula was a splendid passing attack with a long count of signals at the line of scrimmage.

Well into the third quarter against Baltimore, Wade's previously successful formula proved a failure. So Halas, the 68-year-old NFL pioneer, switched.

He yanked Wade, threw in Rudy Bukich for the first time this year, and came off with 10 points in the final quarter for a fourth straight victory which kept the Bears in first place in the league's Western Division.

Short Count

That wasn't the only switch employed by Halas. Instead of concentrating on passing, Bukich kept the Bears on the ground except for seven pass attempts of which six were completed including a 44-yard combination pass run maneuver to Ronnie Bull. It provided the game's only touchdown and a victory for the Bears.

Bukich also was told to switch from a long count to a short count.

"I figured the Colts and probably the rest of the league had caught up with the long count," said Halas. "so I decided to switch. Just say that I'm a switcher."

But that wasn't all the switching Halas was to employ. After the Bears took a 7-3 lead on the Bukich to Bull touchdown pass, the Bears gained control of the ball on a fumble.

Their attempts to go in for another touchdown failed as they moved the ball to the Baltimore nine. Twice earlier rookie Bob Jencks had attempted and failed to boot field goals from the 44 and 28.

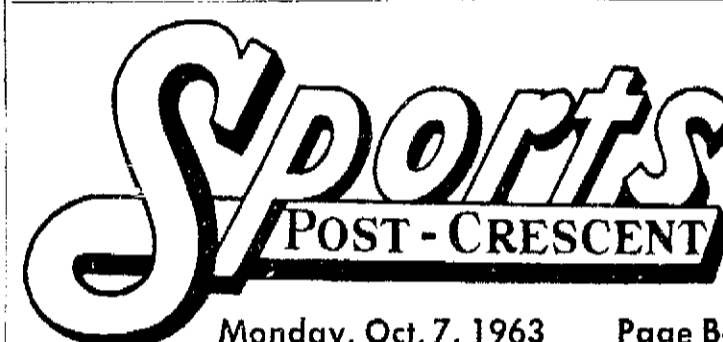

Now Halas again switched. In came Roger Leclerc, a failure as a three-point kicker last year. Leclerc calmly booted the ball between the uprights from the 17 for three insurance points.

"That's what I mean when I say I'm a switcher," laughed Halas.

The first half had the standing-room-only crowd of 48,998 yawning as neither team could muster much of an attack. Bill Wade wasn't on target for the Bears and completed only 5 of 18 pass attempts.

Deepest Penetration

Johnny Unitas completed 13 of 22 but couldn't get the Colts marching. A Unitas to Lennie Moore pass took the Colts to the Chicago 35, Baltimore's deepest penetration at that point. The Colts lined up quickly, but the gun went off before the ball was snapped and a 42-yard field goal

Lombardi Blames Slow Starts on Fact That Other Teams Are 'High'

No New Strategy In Second Half, Packer Mentor Says

BY LEE REMMEL

Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — A flushed and perspiring Vince Lombardi, moping his brow following a 2½-hour pacing session under a broiling sun, was settling into the straight backed chair behind his dressing room desk Sunday afternoon when a newsman asked:

"How do you explain the big change from half to half, Vince?"

Inclining his head toward the adjacent players' quarters, Lombardi said, "I was just telling the coaches and the team out there that, and I'm not taking anything away from the Rams when I say this, everybody that comes in here is fired to the skies against us."

"That seems to have been our history all year," said the Packers' square-shouldered head man, who had just watched his athletes convert a perilously modest 15-10 intermission lead into a bulging 42-10 decision over Hollywood's heroes with another second half eruption.

No Other Reason

"We just can't seem to get started in the first half and I can't give any other reason for it."

"Of course," he added soberly, "you've got a big club out there, that's a hard club to move."

New strategy, he insisted, was not involved in the Packers' second half revival. "We didn't change our game plan one iota at halftime," Vince declared. "We made a few minor adjustments, but that was all."

Reviewing this latest successful project as a whole, Lombardi volunteered, "I think I would have to say it was our best ball game — offensively. Defensively

Dodgers Win To Complete Series Sweep

from relief ace Ron Perranoski stifled the Yankee sluggers with only 22 hits, an average of under six per game. Koufax, who started the sweep with a 5-2 victory over Whitey Ford in the opener, permitted only six hits Sunday and lost his shutout when Mickey Mantle homered in the seventh.

The Yankees scored only four runs in four games. "The Dodgers' great pitching beat us, nothing else," said Yankee Manager Ralph Houk who accepted the defeat his first in three World Series, philosophically. "We simply couldn't score enough runs."

"I've never seen such tremendous pitching all around in my 10 years with the Dodgers," said Los Angeles Manager Walter Alton, who also had led Dodger teams to world championships in 1955 and 1959.

This was the most gratifying victory of all. We beat a great team one which has been called by some the greatest Yankee team of them all.

The Dodgers didn't exactly knock down any fence, but they themselves. They had only 25 hits two on Sunday but as Alton said:

"We got our hits when they counted the most. That's the way we've played all year. We never hit much but we won the key games, and got the key hit when we needed it."

Ford, who lost the first and fourth games pitched brilliantly Sunday. He permitted only two hits both by Big Frank Howard who broke the scoreless pitching duel with a 450-foot home run in the fifth inning.

The winning run was unearned. It came in the bottom of the seventh after the Yankees had evened the score on Mantle's 15th Series home run which tied Babe Ruth's record for most homers in Series play.

High Bouncer
Jim Gilliam opened the Dodgers' seventh with a high bouncer to third Cleve Bower made a leaping stop and good throw to first but Joe Pepitone let the ball go through him. By the time the first baseman had retrieved the bound ball Gilliam was on third. He scored on Willie Davis' sacrifice fly to Mantle in deep right center.

"I lost the ball in the sun and in the white shirts of the grandstands," Pepitone said in disgust. "It hit my wrist then my forearm then my chest. All I could see was shuts."

Pep's misplay was the only Yankee error of the Series. "It was not bad defensive play that cost us the Series," said Houk. "It was good pitching by the Dodgers. No team can win without scoring runs."

It marked the first time a National League team had been able to sweep the Yankees in four straight. The New York Giants of 1922 beat the Yankees in four but there was a 3-3 tie during the Series.

Koufax, the Series hero with two victories, fanned eight Sunday to boost his two-game total 23, a record for a Series of seven games or less. Bill Dineen of the 1903 Boston Red Sox fanned 28 Pittsburgh Pirates but that was in an eight game series.

It was only the second time the Dodgers had beaten the Yankees in eight post season classics. The only other win came in 1955 when the Dodgers were in Brooklyn.

Veteran sportscaster Mel Allen "The Voice of the Yankees" lost his voice during the tension-packed final innings of Sunday's fourth World Series game as New York made a final bid to catch the Los Angeles Dodgers. Mel just lost his voice and we figured he'd better rest his throat for perhaps an inning, said Vin Scully, "Voice of the Dodgers," who shared television duties for the Series with Allen.

How to cut oil bills

1. Have your oil burner cleaned and adjusted professionally. Like a car, it needs periodic attention.
2. Use a heating oil that helps guard against deposit build-up in burner passages. In a clean, well adjusted burner, Shell Heating Oil can help reduce fuel consumption significantly.

Charley Johnson Hits on 16 of 25 Passes for 301 Yards, 3 TDs

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP)—The Cardinals put on the frost-ed behind the devastating passing of Charley Johnson to humiliate the Minnesota Vikings 56-14 in a National football league game Sunday.

The Cards, Eastern Division contenders at 3-1, inflicted the Vikings worst defeat the Vikings have ex-perienced in their 2½ seasons in the NFL.

Johnson blitzed the Vikings for 36 pass completions in 25 at-tempts. His aerials went for 301 yards and three touchdowns, the most dazzling a 68-yarder to Son-Randle in the fourth quarter.

The Cardinals were turning the game into a rout.

Johnson also hit Bill Trimble on a five-yard scoring pass and Randle on a 21-yarder. Randle caught a third touchdown pass of 15 yards from Buddy Humphrey in the closing seconds.

Church Changes Time Of Service on Day Of Packer-Lion Tilt

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A church has decided against competing with the telecast of the Green Bay Packers-Detroit Lions National Football League game Thanksgiving Day.

The Rev. John Baumgartner of the Capitol Drive Lutheran Church checked the time of the telecast and learned the pre-game show starts at 10:45 a.m., CST, followed by the game 15 minutes later.

"We'll hold our services at 8:15 and 9:45," Rev. Baumgartner announced. "We had 721 at our 8:15 service last Thanksgiving and only 359 at the 10:45 service when the Packer telecast was on."

Palmer Fires 281 to Grab Off $26,000

Victory Gives Him The Three Biggest Checks of the Year

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Arnold Palmer says he has to play more often to shoot winning golf but the suspicion is growing among the touring pros that his green not greens that brings out the best in the richest linksmen of all time.

The 33-year-old Palmer won the richest official PGA prize of them all Sunday in taking the $26,000 first prize of the $125,000 White-marsh Open Golf Tournament with a 72-hole total of 281.

The victory over the 6,807-yard Whitmarsh Valley Country Club course made the Latrobe, Pa. golfer the holder of the three biggest tournament checks of 1963—$26,000 here, $25,000 in the Thunderbird Classic and $22,000 in the Cleveland Open. The $50,000 Jack Nicklaus won in the World Series of golf was unofficial.

Since Palmer failed this year to win any of the major events, the PGA, U.S. Open, Masters or British Open, even he had to agree it has been a year when he won nothing but money. He commented, however, that people still recognized the stuff in Latrobe.

Didn't Win Easy

As usually is the case, Palmer didn't win the Whitmarsh gold easy. He almost blew the big money. A birdie on the 71st hole braked what could have been the most expensive skid in golf history. With the birdie he survived by one stroke over Lionel Hebert, the veteran pro from Lafayette, La.

Hebert didn't exactly have to cry in that beer. He collected $13,000 for his second place 282. Old Sam Snead, who finished the 75 degree final day with a six-under-par 66, and Al Balding, Canadian PGA champion, tied for third, each earning $6,750.

Don January and Mason Rudolph were next with 284s and $4,700 each, while U.S. Open champion Julius Boros shared a three-way tie at 285 and $3,400. PGA and Masters champion Nicklaus wound up with a 289 and $1,600, even with his final round 67.

Duck Kill Drops Off Sharply On Second Day

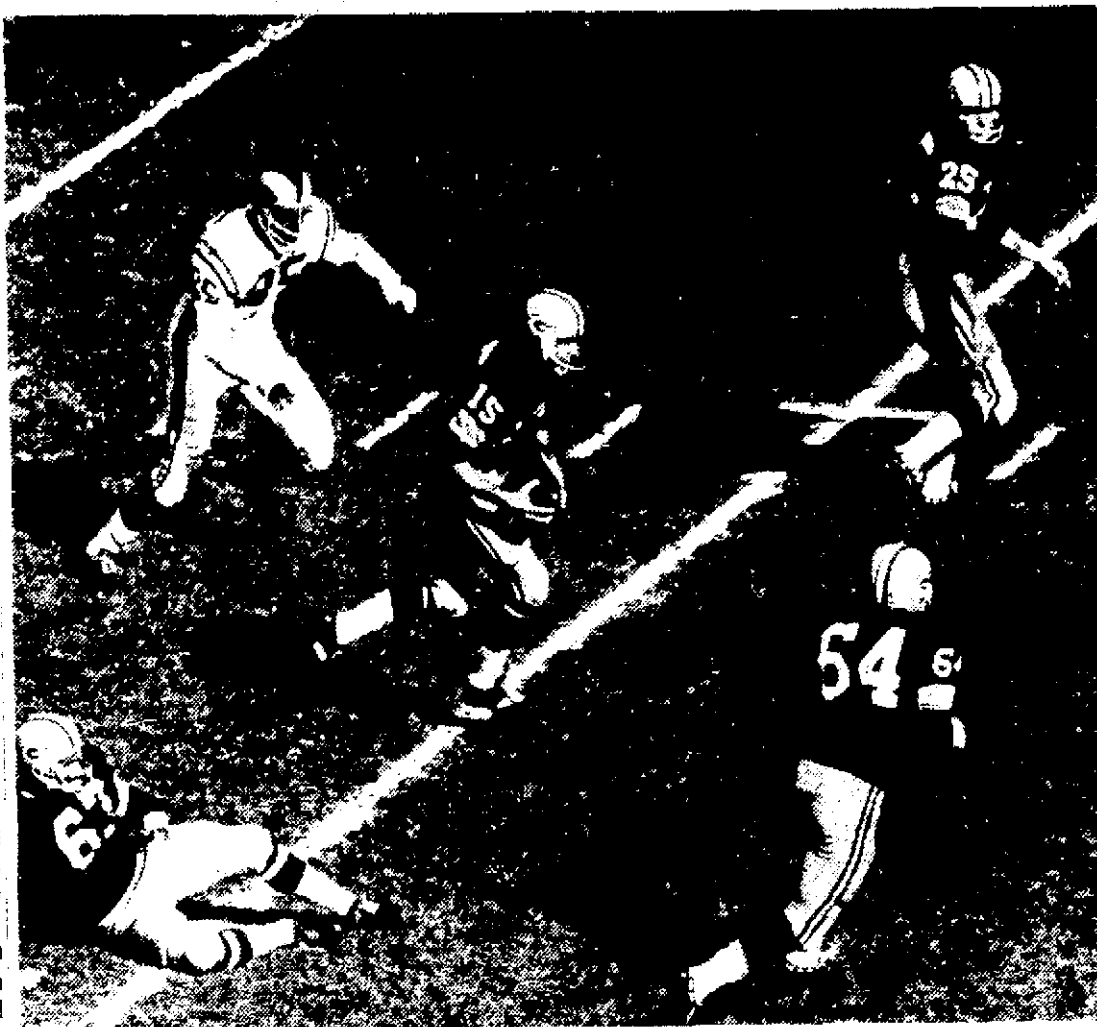

MADISON (AP)—From a hunting standpoint, Sunday's unseasonably hot weather was fit for neither man nor bird. And there were counter-attractions.

It was too hot to sit in a duck blind. So, with temperatures in the high 80s and low 90s, hunters found something else to do. Like quaffing a cold drink and watching the World Series and/or the Packers on television.

And it was too warm for the ducks and geese to go gallivanting off on the flyways. They flocked and stayed on the water.

That was the situation Sunday, the second day of the duck and geese hunting season, according to the Wisconsin Conservation Department. Opening day Saturday brought considerable success to many hunters and hunting pressure was up throughout the state. But the kill dropped off sharply by mid-morning Sunday and the unseasonable warmth was responsible.

A total of 531 geese were shot Saturday and 399 Sunday in the Horicon Marsh area.

The Packers' Bart Starr (15) runs for a substantial gain after finding his receivers covered in Sunday's game against the Rams. Other Packers are Tom Moore (25), "Fuzzy" Thurston (63) and Jerry Kramer (64). The Rams' Lamar Lunday is No. 85. (Post-Crescent News Service Photo)

Follow Private Plan

Crunching Block by Gros Springs Adderly for 98-Yard Kickoff Run

BY LEE REMMEL
Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — "Earl (Gros) and I made up our minds we were going to run anything out of the end zone—follow the wedge as far as we could and, as soon as we'd see daylight, boom."

Muscle-laden Herb Adderley, the speaker, didn't have to add that he had followed this private "plan" to a T, converting the aforementioned "boom" into a 98-yard scoring burst on the opening kickoff of Sunday's 42-10 domination of the Los Angeles

Rams at sun-drenched City Stadium.

Likewise no accident, Adderley informed newsmen gathered around his dressing room locker, was a crunching Gros block which sprung the mercurial Michigan State alumnus at the Packer 35.

"Before the kickoff, I told Earl to go up on the outside," Herb explained. "I told him not to go into the wedge because I was planning to go up the outside."

"I had blocking, beautiful blocking," "After I got out there," the ex-Spartan said, "It was just a good race between me and the safety man, Purvis Atkins." (Herb had been too busy to notice, but LA's Duane Allen also had been in vain pursuit.)

"How many yards was that?" Adderley asked. Apprised it had been 98, he evinced surprise, observing "I thought I was on the goal line."

The figure reminded him of something else. Turning to Elijah Pitts, on route across the room, he called, "Hey, Pitts, 198 now. I lost 8 pounds today."—an eloquent testimonial to the "mid-summer" heat.

Far down the line, massive Willie Davis was waxing humorous. The bull-shouldered defensive end, whose second quarter safety (acquired tackling Ram quarterback Roman Gabriel in the end zone) shot the Packers ahead to stay, explained with grin, "We were just trying to slip off—we weren't trying to penetrate. But we managed to penetrate pretty good."

A slightly downcast Jerry Kramer, not entirely happy with his kicking performance (all his three field goal attempts went awry), murmured, "What a big bunch of jokers those guys are. They're really huge."

Had the wind bothered him? "No, it was blowing across me and with me. I didn't think it was the kind of wind I had to allow for. I think it was the kicker," he said soberly, "rather than the wind."

"I think if I get a tiny bit closer to the ball," Jerry added, "I'll be all right . . . thank God we didn't need 'em today."

His running-mate, Fuzzy Thurston, was nursing a re-bruised leg. "I hurt it last week," the ex-Valparaiso star confided, "and I got a knee in it today."

Turning his attention to the enemy, Thurston appended with considerable fervor, "They're great football players, boy, those front-four of the Rams."

Another semi-invalid, Jim Taylor, confessed, "My leg pulled a

Great Dodger Pitching

Yankees Shouldn't Feel Down in Dumps About Losing, Stengel Says

BY CASEY STENGEL
Special to Post-Crescent

LOS ANGELES—When you hold the Yankees to four runs in four games you gotta win and that's what great Dodger pitching did in a World Series that was played so close to the vest you could hardly breathe, even in a tremendous ball park with all those open air seats.

I picked the Dodgers in seven because I knew they had great pitchin'—and the Yankees found out, too—but it was so amazing that it musta surprised even their best rooters, and some of their own officials who lost their voices yelling for Sandy Koufax.

You see now why Mr. Koufax is rated so great. He had to mix his stuff to make it a four-straight Series and when he says he was sharper than in the first game you could believe him because it's in my scorebook where he didn't walk one Yankee.

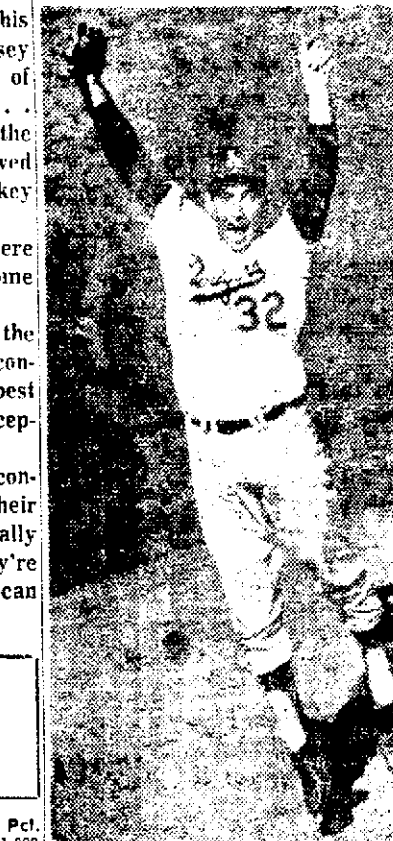

It was like he was pitchin' his regular turn, with three days rest, while last Wednesday he had six days rest and couldn't find his best rhythm, even with 15 strikeouts.

This Series reminds me of the great pitching the Yankees showed in 1950 against the Philadelphia Whiz Kids because, while the Kids pash across five runs in four games, the champion Dodgers' pitchers are so much on the ball that they almost forget about the top relief pitcher, Perranoski, who is in the bullpen and ready.

The great Dodger pitching prevented the Yankees from performing and they shouldn't ever feel down in the dumps about losing four in a row to this club because in my pre-Series articles I warned them—they read the papers, you know—I warned them about the great pitching they would face. They saw nothing like this Dodger pitching on any one team in the American League and the Dodgers had to fight tooth and nail in a tougher league.

When you consider the fine pitching the Yankees got from Whitey Ford, young Downing and young Bouton and Howard proved so great a catcher and Mantle showed his power with a home run which was the first he ever hit in his life in Chavez Ravine, you gotta say nothin went right for the losers.

Now would you ever believe it that World Series can be lost in a white shirt. Well, that's how the Dodgers got their winning run in the seventh, and I wasn't so sure it would hold up.

Winning pitcher Sandy Koufax, of the Los Angeles Dodgers, lets out a big war-whoop after leading the Dodgers to a 2-1 victory over the New York Yankees and a 4-game sweep of the World Series. Koufax accounted for two victories in the series. (AP Wirephoto)

Midway in the third quarter the Colts put on a drive when Jerry Logan returned a punt 23 yards to the Bear 43. The Colts marched to the 9 and settled for a 16-yard field goal by Martin.

Wade again failed to move the Bears and Bukich took over. The veteran quarterback drove the Bears to the Baltimore 21 but rookie Bob Jencks, who missed a field goal attempt from the 44 in the first half, missed again from the 28.

The next time the Bears got the ball, Bukich moved them from their 20 to the payoff touchdown and when the Bears gained control of the Baltimore tumble and failed in a bid for another touchdown, LeClere was called in to pick up three insurance points.

Podres Calls Koufax The Greatest Pitcher

Sandy Says He Was Better Sunday Than in Opener

BY JIM BECKER

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A couple of weeks ago, while the Dodgers were away winning the National League pennant, there was a political rally in the big baseball park here for Barry Goldwater, speaker, a spectator repeatedly shouted:

"Take him out and put in Koufax."

Apparently a left winger. "Anyway, if there are any political offices open here in the land of the chickenfurter and bumper-to-bumper living, they would go today to Sandy Koufax, the Los Angeles Dodger left-hander, without the formality of a ballot.

Koufax won half the games in the astounding four game sweep of the Yankees, the opener was Wednesday and the closer Sunday he to cap a glorious season.

"He's the greatest pitcher in baseball," said Johnny Podres, the left-hander who won the second game. "He's the greatest I've ever seen."

"Only Human" And the Yankees, who said he tore the Series started that Koufax was great but, after all, "he's only human," weren't so sure, first game of the Series he cracked off curves that helped

The only thing that has stopped him to a Series strikeout record the Dodger ace since he emerged of 15. In Sunday's game he went from the ranks of the flame throwers and went to the head of the pitching class two years ago Koufax said, "I had a better fast had been a mysterious numbness ball. I didn't think my curve was so good, but I held my stuff better throughout the game."

He missed the last half of the "It was as good a game as I season, and the Dodgers missed pitched all year."

(the pennant. For a time doctors feared they would have to amputate the finger, but new drugs restored the circulation and saved his career.

He went on to a 25-5 season, a 1.88 ERA and a flock of strikeout records, capped by the hero role in the Series.

What next? "I have no goals," said the 27-year-old Brooklyn boy. "I just want to make it in spring training next year, and have a good year. I'm not aiming at anything."

Right now, "winter officially begins," Koufax said. "I'm glad the season's over so I can play in the same golf."

He's a "plus 10" handicapper. "I'm no good," he said, "I just wouldn't know Proust from a popgun."

Koufax, a bachelor, is not a forceful personality in any direction. He is a serious young man, but not particularly moody. He of the Yankees, the opener has playful moments, but he is no madcap. He reads books, but he wouldn't know Proust from a popgun.

Early in his career, although he could throw a ball through a wall and game. "He's the greatest I've ever seen."

His work is a masterpiece of controlled violence, now. In the first game of the Series he cracked off curves that helped him to a Series strikeout record the Dodger ace since he emerged of 15. In Sunday's game he went from the ranks of the flame throwers and went to the head of the pitching class two years ago Koufax said, "I had a better fast had been a mysterious numbness ball. I didn't think my curve was so good, but I held my stuff better throughout the game."

He missed the last half of the "It was as good a game as I season, and the Dodgers missed pitched all year."

Starr, Taylor Lead Packers to 42-10 Win

Wood making a fair catch, the penalty giving the Bays position on their 47.

Starr hurled a scorcher to Max McGee around the 40 and the Taxi broke away from Henry. Juked Smith and just took off for the goal line. J. Kramer was good this time—for 22-10.

Davis quickly recovered a Gabriel fumble and J.K. got a shot at a field goal from the 34 but it was wide.

With Lionel Aldridge making a key tackle, the Bays got the ball ran off two more plays but the gain per was only 2.6 yards.

The customers were hardly set- tled when Adderley took Atkins' zoomed 20 on the same side to kickoff on the two and went all the way. It seemed so simple. He er who broke away from Meador went straight up the middle and Henry for the TD. J.K. again broke free about the 35 and then converted and it was 29-10.

Have No Trouble

The Rams couldn't move again —as they tried the air, but the Happy Herbie hurled the ball Packers had no trouble. Starr into the south stands and the folks dropped a beauty of a pass in were still yelling when J.K. hit Moore's arms on the west side—the extra point with only 15 lines for a 28-yard gain to start second gone in the game.

Everybody got religion in a finished with 90 yards, opened hurry when the Rams took Dave with 8. Moore ran 1 and then Robinson's short kickoff, starting Taylor shot outside right tackle on the 24. Gabriel, on play 2, and for 26 yards. Moore fired off left Jon Arnett worked a 41-yard guard for 18 to the seven and screen pass to the Packer 34 and then Taylor hit off the left side then Dick Bass carried five for the TD dragging three Rams straight times to the 3 from over with him. J.K.'s kick was where Bratkowski pitched up the low and blocked but it didn't middle to Atkins in the end zone make much difference with the for a TD and Dan Villanueva's score at 35-10.

Roach had Gros Bob Jeter. Ken After J.K.'s field goal try from Iman, Marv Fleming, Elijah Pitts, the 42 went short, Davis and For- Lew Carpenter and Dan Grimm on ester put on their safety heroics the field when he replaced Starr for a 9-7 Bay lead. The Bays after the first play. Gros led off took the free kick, with Willie with a run on which he fumbled Wood returning it 20 yards to the and then recovered to complete Ram 45, and scored Starr hurled a 15-yard gain. Most of the yard, to Boyd Dowler for 15 yards to the age came on Roach's 21-yard pass 29 and three plays later lined a to Fleming and a 12-yarder to pass to Taylor on the left side Carpenter to the 28.

The big fullback ran through three Rams enroute to a 27-yard TD tion on the 19. Gros broke off aerial. The kick was blocked, and right tackle and went in for the TD with Charley Britt hanging on. J.K. hit this time for the final 42-10.

The only major items before the half where Villanueva's 33-yard field goal, which set the score at 15-10, and J. Kramer's FG miss from the 28.

The Packers made the Rams punt in a hurry to start the sec- ond half and Bill Swain ran into

World Series Cut for Each Dodger Could be $12,900

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Baseball 35 ways each would be worth is just a sport, the law says, but sometimes it adds up to pretty good money, too. Each winning Dodger may take home about $12,900 and each losing Yankee can console himself with about $8,100 from the World Series play-

No official figures can be released until commissioner Ford Frick's office has checked and double checked the figures. That probably won't be finished for several days. Frick's office also comes up with the pay checks for the players on the second, third, fourth and fifth place clubs, all of whom probably will receive record slices.

The clubs are not permitted to announce how they sliced the melon but both are expected to be generous. Players who were with the teams on a part time basis usually are granted partial shares or cash awards.

Figuring on 33 Dodger shares the winning share would be roughly $12,900. If the Yanks cut it up we've played quite a few good games."

Would he say that, over-all, it had been the defending world champions' best game? Yes, I way would say so," was the quick re-

Fewer Mistakes

"The reason, of course, is that we made a lot fewer mistakes." Vince pointed out "We had only one fumble that we lost, just two penalties, and no interceptions."

At this point Lombardi, who appeared less composed than usual explained his somewhat restive manner by announcing with a modicum of pride, "I've given up smoking since Monday morning."

Now how did this come to pass? "Last Saturday and Sunday I smoked over six packs," Vince replied, asserting with a wry grin, "I thought anybody who smoked that much should have his head examined, so I decided to quit."

I hope I can continue," he added realistically "I think if I can get by today, I've got it licked."

Returning to the original subject, and more specifically, to enemy, Lombardi mused, "Those Rams. Man, they're big."

Awsome Size

Their awesome size had posed a number of problems, for the Packers' offensive line in general and quarterback Bart Starr by today, I've got it licked."

"The Rams are so tall that if made the dressing room rounds question, I'm chatting with players and like ours, it's hard for him to see his receivers. We knew Tom Moore was open a couple of the heat affected his players? "I times before Bart completed that think both squads showed they second one to him but Bart were in good condition," he said, couldn't find him."

In answer to a question, Lombardi explained Kramer's two blocked extra point efforts by observing, "Those big 6-8 guys in the middle of the Rams' line are responsible—they're awfully big."

Any theory on the missed field goals? "I guess Jerry didn't judge the wind too well," Vince said. "It was quartering a little and it wasn't giving it enough lee."

Shaky Start

Obviously encouraged by Starr's second half performance, the Packers' resident genius noted "This game should bring him out. He's had a rather shaky start but he threw the ball rather well in the second half."

He also was eminently well pleased, needless to say, with Herb Adderley's 96-yard return of the opening kickoff for a touch down "spectacular" that quickly set the 42,327 assembled witnesses as ago.

"When he saw the gap he real- ly shot through there," Lombardi grinned. He's dangerous. That other kid Earl Gros is dangerous too."

Rookie end Marv Fleming who flashed the move of a halfback on a 21 yard pass reception in the fourth quarter also can run somebody observed "Oh, Flem- ing can run."

Vince smiled. "If game was over, we can get him pointed in the right direction, he'll be all right."

Gov. Jack Olson arrived in the Rams' inner sanctum at this juncture to extend his congratula- tions. "Hello, governor, nice to see you," Vince greeted him.

"We were plugging there for you," Olson replied, shaking his hands before making his departure. "Gov. John W. Reynolds also so, he added in reply to another question, "We hope to get more variety of plays called. We feel we can work a game better this time."

How, Lombardi was asked, had

TODAY THE BEST ADDITIVES MAKE THE BEST GASOLINES

TO THE MAN WHO DOESN'T CARE WHICH GASOLINE HE BUYS:

"What's the difference?" you may ask. "I thought all major brand gasolines from the same pipeline were pretty much alike."

You're right—as far as you go. But that's only HALF the story. And it's the other half that counts in choosing the best gasoline for your car. Many major brand refiners make gasoline of similar high specifications to meet the needs of modern engines. This means they can use the same pipelines, which cuts the cost of shipping gasolines—and saves you money.

But that doesn't mean there aren't differences—important differences—in gasolines.

The BIG difference in major brand gasolines today is "additives"—special formulations which various companies add to their own gasolines AFTER they come out of the pipeline, and before delivery to service stations. That's why, today, the best additives make the best gasolines.

There are over 40 different additives in use today. Many of them are available to Skelly—and would cost us less than our own additive, Keotane®—a development of Skelly Research.

So, why did we develop Keotane? Because we wanted an additive that would attack, head-on, one of the main causes of trouble in today's modern engines—the build-up of excess carbon. Carbon steals gas, robs your engine of pep and power. Keotane was developed specifically to help prevent carbon build-up as you drive. It's so different from other additives that Skelly has been granted U. S. Patent No. 2,878,109 covering its use.

Will it pay you to switch to Keotane? Why not find out. Try 3 tankfuls of Skelly Keotane Gasoline. If you see no improvement in mileage, power, pick-up, starting, idling, you haven't lost a thing. Skelly Keotane costs no more than other major premium brands without Keotane. And, if you do get better performance, you will have found a new friend. And so will Skelly.

Only Skelly has Keotane. ...so different its use is patented* by Skelly

*U. S. Patent No. 2,878,109

Again Skelly says: "You Start or We Pay." Yes, Skelly pays up to $2 on each service call to get your engine started this winter when you have your Skelly Dealer winterize your car these 5 ways: 1. Fill your tank with fast-starting Skelly Keotane or Skelly Regular Gasoline. 2. Drain and refill your crankcase with Skelly Supreme or Skelly Tagolene HD Motor Oil for winter. 3. Test anti-freeze and protect for low temperature in area. 4. Test your battery for reliable winter starting power. 5. Check your transmission and differential. Then if your engine fails to start anytime up to April 1, 1964, Skelly will pay you up to $2 on each service call to get your engine started (see directions on Bonded Starting Certificate) and send you a new certificate, too! BY CAPPY DICK

A rocking chair for a doll can be made from a corrugated carton

The size of the rocker to be made will depend upon the size of the doll. In the illustration I show a rocker cut from a carton 14 inches long and 10 inches wide.

"A" of Figure 1 shows how to mark the sides of the box. When you cut them out you will have the sides of the chair.

"B" of Figure 1 shows the back and seat cut as one piece. Fold the piece at the dotted line in "B," producing the result shown you wish, you may decorate the chair by covering it with fancy paper.

"A" of Figure 2 shows the three parts assembled to make the completed rocker. The sides may be attached to the seat and the back with staples or may be glued.

'Lilies of Field' Called Rare, Moving Film

Sydney Poitier's Acting in Simple Story Magnificent

BY BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Once in a rare while a movie comes along with a gentle humanity that communicates directly to the heart. Lilies of the Field is such a film.

This movie opens Wednesday at the Appleton Theater and the Time Theater, Oshkosh. The story is this: A young Negro construction worker, drifting through the Southwest in his station wagon stops for water at a ranch house inhabited by five immigrant nuns. The mother superior believes the visit is providential that he has been sent to help them build a chapel in which the local citizens could worship. He does — against all odds and his own better judgment — then drifts on.

It is a simple tale that might have emerged a trifle except for the loving care that obviously went into its making. Working on a $248,000 budget near Tucson, Ariz. the producer-director evoked from James Poe's script a beautiful parable.

The mother nun well played by Vjennese Lilia Skala never loses her toughness. And her unwilling charge Sidney Poitier, remains a realist to the end.

There is no dogma, no preaching, no conversion. The visitor remains a baptist.

Poitier's performance is as wonderful as was Ernest Borgnine's in 'Marty' and may well win him a similar reward next Oscar season.

'Lilies of the Field' is a triumph for Ralph Nelson, a television veteran whose only previous film was 'Requiem for a Heavyweight'.

The printed credits puzzled me in that there was no mention of the actor who played an important role as a tough construction boss who helps the church project nor did he appear when the cast was flashed on the screen at the end. The role was played by Ralph Nelson.

Driver Collides With Brother in Virginia

ORANGE, Va. (AP) — Lowell Dodson of Orange County was driving home from work last week when his car and another auto mobile collided. The driver of the second car was Dodson's brother, Gus.

The accident happened in front of a home owned by Earl Dodson. He is a brother of Lowell and Gus.

Actor Laurence Naismith, the lovable Kriss Kringle in the new Broadway musical, "Here's Love," embraces co-star Janis Paige after the successful opening of the show at New York's Shubert Theater. A musical version of the popular modern Christmas story set in a department store, "The Miracle on 34th Street," the new show was prepared by Meredith Willson. (AP Wirephoto)

Milk Is Good for All, Especially Children

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M. D. is nearly 49 inches tall. She

Dear Dr. Molner: My husband drinks very little milk, about a half a glass at a meal. My husband says our 16-year-old son drinks too much milk, that after a certain amount it serves no useful purpose. The boy is still growing, weighs 160 pounds and is 6 feet tall. I am glad he drinks milk and likes it. I believe that a quart a day is considered minimum for growing children and he seldom exceeds that. A glass at breakfast, at lunch and dinner, and sometimes a glass later in the evening. He has a good build.

Dear Dr. Molner: Our little girl, 7½, weighs 46 pounds and is 40 inches tall. She is a good eater and grows well. I am in favor of milk, especially for children and in reasonable amounts for adults. It's a good food with moderate fat (or use skim milk for weight-worriers), goodly protein, and a lot of calcium, which is a most valuable ingredient, plus some lesser materials useful to our bodies. The following "milk letter" also came along the same day.

Dear Sir: I am 75 years old. A number of friends have said that anyone past middle age shouldn't drink milk — that the calcium would make the bones brittle. Any comment? I've averaged a quart of skim milk a day for many years, and it is about a third of my diet. — J. R.

At 75 and in good health any body is entitled to tell calamity howlers that they haven't much business criticizing the amount of milk he drinks! Calcium does NOT make the bones brittle. But a lack of calcium CAN. Many children (and adults) have become healthy specimens by drinking milk, and I'm not inclined to put any stock whatever in people who, at this late date, are trying to drum up theories to the contrary. Nor have I seen any evidence to support their opinions. I think time will put the whole controversy at rest! — if, indeed, enough people accept the anti-milk claims to make it a "controversy." Until then, I hope sensible people won't be misled.

Glandular Fever
Dear Dr. Molner: What is glandular fever?

'London' Show Handsome, Imaginative

BY CYNTHIA LOWRY
NEW YORK (AP) — It would have been great if every viewer who watched "Elizabeth Taylor in London" Sunday night had been able to take the hour long trip through the old city with the aid of a color television set. The show was stunning in its beauty.

Miss Taylor—whose qualification for CBS tour guide was that she was born in Hampstead and lived there until she was 7—was almost unbelievably beautiful, too.

The bouquets, however, must go to the creators of the imaginative program, particularly to the men behind the cameras and the writers, one of whom was the eminent S. J. Perelman.

There were glimpses of London Bridge, Westminster, the Tower and the changing of the guard at Buckingham Palace but it was the off beat material that fascinated most. We saw and heard Billingsgate fish sellers exchanging insults, a street sweeper complaining about dirt, a cabbie mourning the obsolete traffic regulations.

We fished the Thames dock from which the Pilgrims actually started off for America and the shop still doing business which sold the tea for the 1776 Boston tea party. There was modern sculpture in Battersea Park and beatniks in Chelsea. There was a Savile Row tailor fitting a customer in his new riding coat while the would-be hunter sat astride a wooden horse and a hatter fitting his customer for a bowler.

Through it all, aloof, lovely and every inch an actress, floated Miss Taylor usually overlooking the Thames and usually with a book in her hand. Her commentary was warm and even learned and it was leavened by occasional touches of humor.

Sadist Meets Match During Producer Has 'Instant Therapy Care' Hit' in Movie 'VIPs'

BY TV SCOUT

9-10 (Channel 11) — Robert Redford turns in a notable performance in Breaking Point. He plays a sadist who talks his way into Dr. Thompson's (Paul Richards) group therapy sessions and is attracted to Marisa Pavan, a career woman with masochistic tendencies.

6:30-8:30 (Channel 4-5) — Monday Night at the Movies has an excellent action suspense movie "The Wreck of the Mary Deare". The wreck of the Mary Deare is sure to delight the hearts of lovers of sea stories. Gary Cooper and Charlton Heston star in the 1959 release (Color).

7:30-8 (Channel 2) — Lucille Ball gets mixed up with performing arts, a pony, ice cream molds, helium balloons and lots of little kiddies on The Lucy Show.

7:30-9 (Channel 11) — Color set owners are in for a treat when Wagon Train goes Chinese. "The Widow O'Rourke" story is a nice change of pace for the series, with most of the action taking place in the Oriental mansion of Carol Lawrence, a Marchu princess in her 70s (Color).

8-8:30 (Channel 2) — The Danny Thomas Show has Danny teaching his wife another expensive lesson. He finds a cache of $200 in her dresser drawer and decides to take it. But Kathy (Marjorie Lord) calls the police and Danny hires a thief to break back in and replace the money.

8:30-9 (Channel 2) — The idea of setting Don Knotts loose in a haunted house is delicious, so forget the fact that The Andy Griffith Show plot is as old as Caesar's ghost.

9-10 (Channel 2) — East Side West Side has a good episode "You Can't Beat the System" in which the stories of two people who need help. Joseph Turkel, a nice long legged girl, etc. I think she is too thin and should be encouraged to drink 10 years in his room rather than should not be encouraged to "drink water" instead. Both children have healthy appetites and eat balanced meals. — M. S.

Well, it's fashionable these days, in certain circles to criticize milk, but in my opinion this fad will wither. In this cases, there's no reason to criticize diet. The little girl would be better off if she drank a full glass of milk at each meal, but beyond that I'm not inclined to quibble over a quart a day for the boy.

I'm in favor of milk, especially for children and in reasonable amounts for adults. It's a good food with moderate fat (or use skim milk for weight-worriers), goodly protein, and a lot of calcium, which is a most valuable ingredient, plus some lesser materials useful to our bodies. His name isn't Kennedy, and he doesn't care much for touch football, but John McCormick is giving the state of Massachusetts another headliner-maker.

McCormick plays football—pro style—some 2,000 miles away from his Boston home, with the Denver Broncos of the American Football League. He hasn't played the game much, but he's been too much for the opposition in his two-week AFL career.

Dropped by Minnesota of the National League, McCormick hooked on with the Broncos and last week passed Denver to its first victory. He proved he was no one-shot fluke Sunday as he engineered a 50-34 walloping of San Diego, the AFL's last undefeated team.

McCormick started out at Boston College as a collegian but wound up drafted into the Army. When he came out he switched to the University of Massachusetts. Then he tried to get himself drafted — by the pros. No one wanted him.

The Vikings finally decided to take a look-see. They liked him so much they signed him, and he was an immediate success last year—as a punter. This year, Ron Vanderkelen came along to back up Fran Tarkenton, and McCormick's NFL career was over.

He started off for the Broncos by steering two second half touch-down drives in a 14-10 upset of Boston, including a clinching 72-yarder to Lionel Taylor. The story was much the same against the Chargers—only it was three TD passes and a clinching 49-yarder to Taylor.

While McCormick was bringing the Chargers down, Len Dawson connected on four scoring passes as the defending league champion Kansas City Chiefs belted Houston 28-7.

BONDUEL — Bonduel, a team which lost a close game to Weyauwega and tied Wittenberg, dropped Manawa from the first division Saturday by taking a 13-0 Central Wisconsin League victory. Bonduel moved into fourth place.

Wittenberg took over first place with a 28-0 win over Iola-Scandia.

Bonduel scored in the first and third periods and had a 13-0 margin before Manawa counted. The first Bonduel touchdown came on a 25 yard run by Peter Carroll and the second on a four yard dive by Leon Drage. Drage kicked the first extra point.

Manawa scored in the fourth period after a blocked punt. The 40-yard drive finally ended with Mike Brown punching over from the four. The extra point was not good.

Bonduel had 21 first downs to 15 for Manawa. The winners gained 286 yards in the game and Manawa 124.

Other than the scoring plays there was one more threat. Bonduel moved as far as the Manawa 2-yard line in the third period before a penalty stopped them.

gineered a 50-34 walloping of San Diego, the AFL's last undefeated team.

Three TD Passes Tittle Leads Giants Past Redskins, 24-14

WASHINGTON (AP) — Y. A. Tittle bombarded a battered Washington pass defense for three touchdowns Sunday, taking New York 99 yards in the fourth period to wrap up a 24-14 Giant victory.

Until the budding 36-year-old Tittle began firing in the final period, the Redskins were making noises like an upset was in the making despite a patchwork pass defense caused by injuries to three regular defensive backs.

Trailing 17-14, the Redskins downed Pat Richter's high bouncing punt on the Giant 1 to put New York in the hole.

Tittle then moved the Giants downfield, clinching the drive with a daring call on a fourth and one situation on the Redskins 27.

Tittle faked a line plunge, booted the ball to the right and tossed a 27-yard pass to end Joe Walton for the touchdown.

The victory brought the Giants' National Football League record to 3-1 and moved them into second place in the Eastern Division. Washington now has a 2-2 record.

Frustrate Tittle

Washington did manage to frustrate Tittle in one respect. Linebacker Carl Kammerer intercepted a pass in the third quarter, the first for the veteran quarterback in 71 passes in three games.

Tittle connected on 19 of 34 passes for 302 yards. In the first quarter, he tossed a 41-yard

'You Had It Coming,' Houk Says to Alston

Pepitone Says He Lost Ball in Sun And White Shirts

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Something, maybe the Hollywood influence, induced the Los Angeles Dodgers to come up with a new ending this season.

A year ago, after they blew the pennant to the San Francisco Giants, the scene in the Dodger dressing room was one of utter despair. The doors were locked for an hour. When newsmen finally got in, they found the floor cluttered with half-empty bottles and half-loaded athletes.

Cameramen were summoned Sunday to re-shoot the last scene. They finally got their happy ending.

The team that had pulled one of the most astonishing fainting spells in baseball history in 1962 had pulled one of the neatest tricks of the generation a year later by taking the World Series from the Yankees in four straight.

In 1962, they were pouring bourbon for each other. In 1963, they were pouring champagne on each other.

Houk Walks In

The celebration barely had begun when Yankee Manager Ralph Houk, no stranger to victory parties, walked in to congratulate Dodger Manager Walter Alston. "You had it coming to you," Houk said graciously. "We just caught you in a slump," said Alston.

The rest of the dressing room dialogue was predictably exuberant.

Until Frank Howard, the Bunyanesque outfielder, got into the act.

In the fifth inning, Howard hit a ball 450 feet and became the first man to homer into the second deck in left field at Dodger Stadium.

Howard, incredibly, brushed it off like a bad-bounce single. "I can't say it gave me a bigger thrill than any other home run I've ever hit," he said. "I've hit a lot of balls farther."

Pouring Champagne

In a corridor outside the dressing room, Pete Richert was pouring champagne over the head of Ron Fairly.

"I'm still using that greasy kid stuff," Fairly said.

Other clubhouse quotes: Don Drysdale—"What a difference a year makes." Johnny Podres—"I didn't even know how I feel yet. It's still a shock."

Bill Skowron—"After the season I had, this Series was the biggest thrill of my career."

Ron Perranoski (who pitched in 69 games during the season)—"The way our starters were going in the Series, I was lucky to get to pitch two-thirds of an inning."

Dodger General Manager Buzzie Bavasi—"If we'd played like this all season, we would have won by 30 games."

Alston—"This club was pretty much like the one we had when we won in 1959. We had a lot of spirit and momentum at the end. This club was best in key spots. We won when we had to win."

Sandy Koufax—"I pitched better the first four innings in the first game at New York. But, as far as the whole ball game was concerned, I think I did better this time. I held my stuff better."

The Yankees took their defeat gracefully, if not easily.

Played Good Series

"We played a good Series," Houk insisted. "And we'll win a lot more Series in the future."

"The kind of pitching the Dodgers had would beat the best team that ever played," said Yankee General Manager Roy Hamey.

"We just never had a chance to hit-and-run," said Bobby Richardson. "We never had anybody on base."

Joe Pepitone, the Yankee first baseman, was thinking about the seventh inning. That was when Cleo Boyer fielded Jim Gilliam's grounder and threw to Pepitone, who let the ball get by him for a three-base error. Gilliam scored the winning run on a fly ball.

"I lost the ball in the sun and to lose," Houk said. "I'll have to say the Dodgers have real good pitching. After the frustration they went through last year, they had something coming. I'm happy for Walter Alston."

"If it had only hit the ground first I might have caught it."

"I feel badly for Peppy," Houk said. "The ball was right there

HORTONVILLE — Four sophomore girls from the Hortonville High School have been selected to attend the Trees For Tomorrow Camp at Eagle River starting Wednesday. The trip is sponsored by the Wisconsin Michigan Power and Light Company.

Selected to attend are Phyllis Hegner, Mary Lou Hooyman, Mary Lou Kroeger, and Mary Lou Deltour. Mrs. Wilhelmine Pollard will accompany the girls. There will be forty students from the Fox River Valley at the camp during this period.

'Sixth Wheel' Film Offered by Outagamie County Safety Council

Every automobile has six wheels—four with tires, a fifth for steering, and the sixth, the biggest wheel of all, is the driver.

The Outagamie County Safety Council has purchased the film "Sixth Wheel" for showing to any group free of charge. It and three other safety films can be arranged for by phoning the traffic office at the court house.

"Sixth Wheel" represents a new approach to driver persuasion, the effort of influencing drivers to accept their full responsibilities. The film is not violent instead it is a factual presentation of information through three drivers—a salesman, a young mother and a teen-age boy. They are observed during a typical day's driving with good and bad factors in their driving practices noted.

President Places Name on Pact to Ban Nuclear Tests

Calls Treaty 'Honorable Commitment' for Survival

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy formally ratified the limited nuclear test ban treaty today, calling it "a clear and honorable national commitment" to the cause of man's survival.

Kennedy, in a ten-minute ceremony in the historic Treaty Room of the White House, said the agreement to ban all but underground nuclear tests was "great with promise" and marks a beginning that could lead to further East-West agreements.

"If this treaty fails," Kennedy said, "it will not be our doing, and even if it fails, we shall not regret that we made this commitment."

Must Stay Vigilant

The President said the United States "can and must keep our vigilance" — an obvious reference to his earlier promise that the nation would be in a position to quickly resume atmospheric testing of nuclear weapons should some other power violate the treaty.

With 16 government officials and members of Congress looking on, Kennedy used 17 fountain pens to sign four copies of the formal instrument of ratification. The Senate consented to ratification of the treaty by a 80-19 vote on Sept. 24.

More than 100 other nations have added their signatures to the treaty.

Kennedy, reading a formal statement before ratifying the agreement, said that the first two decades of the age of nuclear energy "were full of fear."

Says Hope Grows

He said that, because of this treaty, "today the fear is a little less and hope a little greater."

While emphasizing the limited nature of the treaty, Kennedy expressed hope that it would be the forerunner of other, broader agreements which, he said, may be more difficult to achieve.

Kennedy first used 16 pens to sign the instruments of ratification.

Having distributed these, he reached for a 17th and added a few flourishes to his signature on one gilt-bound copy, saying: "I have to get one for myself."

The White House said the limited ban would go into full effect Thursday when the three copies are placed in official depositories in Washington, London and Moscow.

Witness Ceremony

Witness for the ceremony in the second-floor office include Undersecretary of State W. Averell Harriman, the chief American negotiator; Secretary of State Dean Rusk; Director William Z. Foster of the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency; Deputy Disarmament Director Adrian Fisher; John J. McCloy, chairman of the agency's advisory committee; Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, and these Senate members: Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont.; Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn.; George Smathers, D-Fla.; Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill.; Thomas Kuchel, R-Calif.; J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark.; George D. Aiken, R-Vt.; Bourke Hickenlooper, R-Iowa; John O. Pastore, D-R.I.; Leverett Saltonstall, R-Mass.; Henry Jackson, D-Wash., and Howard Cannon, D-Nev.

The treaty is the 12th major pact

Half of Island's Main Crops Reported Wiped Out By Wind, Torrential Rains

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Flora lashed Cuba today for the fourth day in a row, dealing a crushing blow to the already staggering economy of Fidel Castro's Communist regime.

Half of the island's sugar, rice, coffee, cotton and cocoa crops were reported wiped out by the wind and the torrential rain, and Flora was far from through with Cuba. At 8 a.m. (EST), she had started to move once again across the stricken nation.

The turbulent eye of the giant storm crossed the south coast near Santa Cruz Del Sur and was thrashing very slowly toward the city of Camaguey.

Sugar production, the backbone of Cuba's economy, already had fallen to the lowest level in 30 years, Castro admitted, of poor Communist management, lackadaisical work by peasants, and the breakdown of motor transport.

Over 400 Dead

As the 100-mile-an-hour storm — which already has taken more than 400 lives — moved into Cuba for the second time, the Bahama Islands came once more into range and Florida was threatened.

In her first thrust into Cuba Friday, Flora gave signs that she would thrash on northward into the Bahamas. But the storm stalled over Oriente province, then turned westward back into the Caribbean sea.

Only two deaths thus far have been confirmed in the guarded reports from the radio. The crews of two coastal fishing boats are missing in savage seas off the south coast. More than 400 bodies have been counted in Haiti.

Oriente is the principal sugar producing province of Cuba and Flora in four days probably has done more damage to the crop than the anti-Castro rebels have done in four years with sabotage.

380 Miles From Miami

The 8 a.m. advisory placed the storm center near latitude 21.0 north, longitude 78.0 west, or

House Votes for Deep Slashes in Major Programs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee today voted deep slashes in the nation's civil defense, space and science programs.

Among other things, it turned down the entire $195 million asked for a nationwide fallout shelter program.

In a bill financing 26 executive agencies and offices, the committee approved only $13,102,818.700 of the $14,658,588,000 requested by President Kennedy for the present fiscal year.

But even with the $1,555,769,300 cut, the bill's total as it went to the House floor for consideration later this week was $12,333,067,400 — higher than the same agencies received last year.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration was allotted $5.1 billion of the $5,712,000,000 the President had originally requested.

Record Set by Docket as High Court Meets

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court convenes today for a new term, confronted with the heaviest docket in its long history.

Chief Justice Earl Warren, beginning his eleventh year on the high bench, has seen a steady annual increase in appeals during his regime. The total at term-opening now stands at almost 1,200 cases.

Representing an increase of about 300 cases over last October's opening, the total includes appeals expected to produce momentous decisions in the coming winter and spring.

Short Opening Day

Under court routine dating back many years, opening day is a short one devoted to admission of attorneys to practice before the high court.

Next Monday the court will announce what actions will be taken on hundreds of cases filed during the summer. The number to be announced is expected to exceed 600, compared with 453 acted on at the start of the 1962-63 term. Appeals granted will get hearings late in the fall or winter.

Questions left undecided in the Tennessee legislative reapportionment ruling of 1962 will be taken up soon. The court already has agreed to hear new apportionment cases from New York, Georgia, Alabama, Maryland and Virginia.

In the Tennessee case the tribunal decided the division of seats in state legislatures is subject to judicial scrutiny. Now the justices are faced with the question of what apportionment standards satisfy the Constitution.

Nation's Buddhist Problem Solved, He Says in Speech

BY PETER ARNETT

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — President Ngo Dinh Diem said today the Communists are losing the guerrilla war in South Viet Nam.

In an address opening the National Assembly, Diem said the Communist Viet Cong faces the "eventuality of an inescapable defeat."

He also told his hand-picked assembly, in which there are no opposition parties, that South Viet Nam's Buddhist "problem" had been settled. His regime's recent crackdown on the Buddhists is to be debated in the U.N. General

Says Feudalism Ended in Iran

TEHRAN, Iran. (AP) — Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi says feudalism is dead in his country.

"Every Iranian — men and women — can live as free, proud human beings," he said in an address opening the new parliament Sunday.

For the first time, he said, parliament had been elected by the people. Previous elections were dominated by village landlords whose hold is being broken by the Shah's land reform program.

Helicopters, Parachutists Hunt 14 Americans Missing in Mexico

CHIHUAHUA, Mexico (AP) — The United States government moved in helicopters and a parachute team today in the mounting search for a group of daring

American adventurers in desolate northwest Mexico.

After a small airplane flew through the needle thin gorge, its craggy walls blotched with shadows, help was called for from the U.S. Air Force and Army.

Used Rubber Boots
The river expedition of 12 men and two women hasn't been heard from or seen in more than a week during their quest to conquer the uncharted Rio Urique. The 15th member is hospitalized there after he had been sent for additional supplies.

The exploration — adventure group set out 13 days ago in four 15-foot rubber boats to travel the thin canyon which stretches along the winding, twisting Barranca Cobre (Copper Gulch). They had with them only enough food for a few days. They planned to pick up provisions from mining camps at intervals along the river.

The explorers include veteran Urah River runners, two California business executives on a "vacationing camping trip" and a zoology professor.

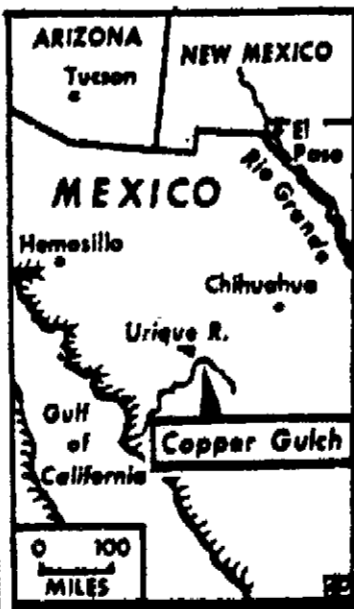

The search area is about 300 air miles from this Mexican state capital. One of the adventurers, James D. Dean, 31, of Salt Lake City, Utah, reached here Friday after an exhausting 15-mile hike across rough terrain. He had to swim another seven miles.

Dean and Larry Davis of Price, Utah, were sent by the expedition for more food.

The explorers found the river's water level so low that their supplies began to dwindle. It was taking them several days longer to float down the river than anticipated because of its low level.

Believes Group Safe

be able to travel faster by finding easier terrain away from the treacherous river. The two sought a mining camp where a food pickup had been scheduled.

From his hospital bed, Dean Sunday expressed confidence that his mates are safe.

Arrives Amid Rain

Mrs. Kennedy Visits Famous Greek Island

BY FRANCES LEWINE

LESBOS ISLAND, Greece (AP) — The yacht Christina, carrying Mrs. John F. Kennedy on an Aegean cruise, arrived today at this island birthplace of the Greek poetess Sappho.

The yacht dropped anchor about half a mile off the port of Lesbos after an overnight voyage from Istanbul through the Dardanelles and down the Turkish coast.

Heavy rain was falling as the vessel dropped anchor. But the rain stopped soon afterward. The sea was calm.

Lesbos, in the Aegean sea just off the Turkish coast, was Mrs. Kennedy's first Greek port of call since the Christina set out from Athens Friday night.

America's First Lady spent Sunday afternoon on a sightseeing tour of two famous Istanbul mosques and Turkey's national treasury collection of fabulous jewels and art objects collected by the rulers of the old Ottoman empire.

Mrs. Kennedy is touring on millionaire Greek shipowner Aristotle Onassis' 303-foot yacht Christina.

Mrs. Kennedy came out in public unexpectedly in Istanbul to the delight of Turks and an outpouring of American tourists.

There was a mob scene during the two-hour swing through three of the ancient city's major points of interest.

Istanbul was the first port of call for the Christina after leaving Athens late Friday night. Mrs. Kennedy's arrival in Istanbul happened to coincide with the celebration of the 41st anniversary of the liberation of the city from the occupation forces of World War I.

New London May Install New Sewer

Private Interests
Planning to Build House Trailer Park

NEW LONDON—The need for sanitary sewer for the section of the city north of the Canal Bridge was brought to light at a meeting of the planning commission last week when a request for sewer was asked so that a trailer park could be established in that area.

Mayor Wilmer Schlafer said he has been contacted about the sewer by someone interested in creating a trailer park. He also said there are several other proposed projects in the area that would require sewer.

He told the group he had contacted the planning commission making a master plan of the city, and it will make a report in the near future.

The commission also discussed revising the present trailer ordinance. No action was taken.

Estimate Given

Street Supt. Arthur Gesse gave an estimate of the underground work and curb and gutter for the County Trunk D project. He said a meeting should be arranged with the Town of Hortonville board to discuss and agree on the portion of the project to be paid by Hortonville.

In other business the planning commission voted to recommend that the council donate $350 to New London Aviation in 1964. A request for aid by the Ski Hill was denied.

Regular meeting dates were set. The commission voted in favor of having a regular meeting on the first Monday of each month at 8 p.m. Each member of the commission will receive notice of the meeting. Other meetings will be handled by telephone.

Emil Gehrke, a member of the commission said the county law enforcing committee will have a meeting on possible signal lights for the intersection of U.S. 45 and State 54 in New London. He said the planning commission will be invited to attend the meeting.

Hold Benefit for Legion Ball Club At New London

NEW LONDON — A benefit dinner for the American Legion baseball team was held at the Legion clubhouse Saturday night with members of the team being guests of honor.

Proceeds from the dinner will be used to help support the team next year.

Following the dinner which was served by the Legion Auxiliary the crowd of approximately 85 heard vocal selections by Mrs. Alden Schmidt and Gerald Murphy. They were accompanied at the piano by Margo Shaw.

Movies and slides of the Braves baseball organization in spring training camps were shown by Robert "Tiger" Rathel who is a former scout and spring training coach for the Braves.

Three members of the team who were also Badger Boys State representatives sponsored by the Legion this year explained the function of Badger Boys State at Ripon College. The boys, Gary Glocke, Joe Mularky and John Moriarty, each told of their experiences at the Legion-sponsored activity.

New Discovery Now Makes It Possible To Shrink And Heal Hemorrhoids Without Surgery

Stops Itch—Relieves Pain In Minutes

New York, N. Y. (Special): A world-famous institute has discovered a new substance which has the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids without surgery. The sufferer first notices almost unbelievable relief in minutes from itching, burning and pain. Then this substance speeds up healing of the injured tissues all while it quickly reduces painful swelling.

Tests conducted under a doctor's observations proved this so—even in cases of 10 to 20 years' standing. The secret is the new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — now offered in both ointment or suppository form called Preparation H.

In addition to actually shrinking piles—Preparation H lubricates and makes bowel movements less painful. It helps to prevent infection (a principal cause of hemorrhoids).

Only Preparation H contains this magic new substance which quickly helps heal injured cells back to normal and stimulates regrowth of healthy tissue again. Just ask for Preparation H Ointment or Preparation H Suppositories (easier to use away from home). Available at all drug counters.

NAVARINO—The Merri Maids Homemaker Club will open its year with a meeting at 8 p.m. Oct. 9 at the home of Mrs. James Zuiches. Mrs. Harley Pues is serving as co-hostess.

Emergency first aid has been selected as the meeting topic.

Officers are Mrs. Zuiches, president; Mrs. James Dingeldein, vice president; Mrs. Wilbert Conradt, secretary; Mrs. Ned Westphal, treasurer; Mrs. Avery Wilber, health chairman, and Mrs. Forrest Torgerson, sunshine committee chairman.

The group will meet at members' homes on the second Wednesday of each month.

Officers Elected by Navarino Church

NAVARINO — Officers were elected at a special meeting of the American Lutheran Church Women of Ascension Church.

Serving two-year terms are Mrs. James Dingeldein, vice president; Mrs. Frank Holzer, secretary; and Mrs. Theodore Christianson, stewardship secretary.

Bible study leaders will meet at the church Oct. 8. The Rev. Ned Westphal will speak on the theme, "Christ is Our Lord."

Chilton Legion Auxiliary Backs Council Candidate

CHILTON—The Chilton American Legion Auxiliary unit Thursday night endorsed a candidate for county council office.

Mrs. Reuben Schroeder, a member of the local organization, received support for the office of county color bearer. Elections will be conducted at the American Legion Auxiliary County Council meeting here Oct. 16.

Four delegates to the annual Fall conference Friday at New London were selected. They are Mrs. Emil Jodar, Mrs. A. O. Brandes, Mrs. Al Hertel, and Mrs. Delores Spykerman.

Mrs. Norbert Euclide, president, reported that the Legion memorial book shelf at the Chilton Public library received its 30th book recently. A book is donated in memory of each deceased post or auxiliary member. The latest addition was the George Steger memorial.

Mrs. Calvin Schmahl was named chairman of the veterans Christmas gift program. The gifts donated by legion auxiliary posts throughout the state are placed in the gift shop at Wood Veterans Hospital, Milwaukee. Patients are then permitted to select gifts for members of their family from the collection.

Local contributions should be made at the Nov. 7 meeting.

The group will take an active roll in arranging the Halloween party for children of post and auxiliary members at the city hall assembly room Oct. 30.

A Veterans' Day dinner for the post and auxiliary Nov. 11 is being planned.

Knife-Wielding Man Sought by Authorities

Pulls Switchblade on Wife at Appleton Bar, Eludes Police

An Appleton man who pulled a doors of her car and rolled up switchblade knife on his wife late the windows. Saturday night at a southside. It was then Pahlke pulled the tavern, then eluded two Appleton switchblade knife from his pocket, policemen who were taking him to went to the moving car and broke the police station for questioning the car window with his fist. Police said he tried to pull his wife from the car. Police did not learn how the occupants got out of the car, but the four occupants went into the tavern followed by Pahlke. Mrs. Pahlke hid in the kitchen. County police and police were called. A squad and the sheriff's department also was sent to the scene.

Being sought is Ronald Pahlke, 26, 705 N. Appleton St. Police have into the tavern followed by Pahlke, warned that Pahlke should be considered dangerous. County police and police were called. A squad and the sheriff's department also have been contacted and told to be on the lookout for the man.

Appleton police gave this account of Pahlke's actions. Pahlke's wife and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mueller, 309 S. Weimer St. went to Heinie's Tavern, 148 S. Walter St., with Mrs. Robert Eichinger, the wife of the tavern proprietor, about 10 p.m. Saturday night. They drove into the parking lot and saw Pahlke at the bar.

Had Quarreled The four drove on to the Mueller home "to avoid trouble" with Pahlke. Mrs. Pahlke said she and her husband had quarreled Saturday evening.

Later the four drove back to the tavern and into the parking lot where they saw Pahlke waiting for them. Mrs. Pahlke locked the and had not seen him since. He said Pahlke had told him "his difficulties" with the police had been cleared up Saturday night. Schomish said he did not know Pahlke was being sought by police.

Pahlke is on parole to the state department of public welfare. His parole officer, Steve Langlois, has filed an apprehension request for the man with Appleton police for parole violation.

Other squads were called to the area and a search was made, but Pahlke was not found.

Detectives Sunday went to Pahlke's apartment where they found the door open and the apartment empty. They learned Pahlke had been seen at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Schomish, 908 N. Richmond St., Sunday morning and that Pahlke had left the house with Schomish and apparently gone to Neenah.

On Parole Schomish returned home early this morning and contacted police and told them he dropped Pahlke off in Neenah about noon Sunday.

There early Saturday about one mile were no fires in the tank car, he said.

Milwaukee Road officials estimated damage to the cars as straight line of track. Cars that "extensive" and are conducting were damaged included 10 box an investigation into the cause cars, one tanker and four flat-today. No one was injured in the bed gondolas.

accident which occurred about 1:30 a.m.

Engineer Cliff Duchateau Green Bay, told the Post-Crescent the train was traveling north at about 40 miles an hour when it went into an emergency braking condition.

The train came to an automatic stop and at that time, Duchateau said, he was not aware that any of the 100 cars on the train was off the tracks.

He and Conductor Robert Cariveau, Green Bay, walked the length of the train and found that the 13 cars in the approximate middle of the train had jumped the tracks. There were no crew members near the cars, Duchateau said.

Half of the train continued on to Green Bay where it was taken to the west side yards. There is no damage to that part of the train, yard officials said. About 60 cars were left at Chilton.

The train had been made up in Milwaukee, Duchateau reported and its last stop before the

Purpose of the Valachi Hearing

The public examination of convicted drug peddler and murderer Joseph Valachi by the Senate committee investigating organized crime in the United States has been a dramatic experience. The pains taken by federal agents to safeguard the man with an underworld price on his head, his colorful gangland language, his descriptions of the "kiss of death" and "blood oath" he took upon his initiation, all are touches which couldn't be surpassed by Hollywood.

Valachi's story has been of particular interest in this area because of that phase of his testimony involving Joseph Bonanno, whom he identified as his "godfather" in the Cosa Nostra. Bonanno is well known in the Fond du Lac area where he has had certain business connections with the Italian cheese industry.

The Wisconsin attorney general's office is planning to interview Valachi later to seek further information on possible nationwide criminal connections in Wisconsin. Months ago Governor Reynolds, apparently on information available to him as attorney general, charged that organized crime was active in the state, and as a result of all these developments the state has set up a criminal investigating force within the attorney general's office.

But because of the drama of Valachi's testimony we are apt to lose sight of the real purpose of these hearings. Congressional committees hold hearings for the purpose of exposing conditions which require new legislation, and to assist in the drafting of proper legislation to deal with such problems.

At the start of these hearing Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy told the committee that the federal government needs new legal powers to deal with organized crime. One of his requests was for authority for police to use wire-tapping techniques to secure evidence. The attorney general's office has long sought this right, under previous administrations as well as the present one.

The Valachi testimony is valuable mainly because it so effectively dramatizes the need for new legal powers to deal with organized crime. And as a result police, federal, state and local, probably will be given new weapons with which to fight this internal war.

Latin Americans Must Have Revolutions

The overthrow of a reasonably democratic regime in Honduras by a right wing military clique is another in a series of such revolts in Latin America in the last year.

Honduras joins such countries as the Dominican Republic, Guatemala and Peru and is likely to be joined in turn by Venezuela. Other countries like Haiti and Cuba have moved no closer to democracy. There are local differences and reasons for the military revolts but in general the pattern is much the same.

The military usually claims that the government in control is soft on communism. The large land owners resent the efforts toward land reform which will change the traditional relationship of master and peasant. Business leaders feel that profits are being taxed too high. And so the army steps in and takes over, the government leaders flee into exile or are shot for resisting, a few students demonstrate and are arrested and everything quiets down.

Once again the appalling political instability of Latin American countries has been demonstrated. To some extent this is caused by the economic instability which in turn is perpetuated by the political upheavals. But the entire idea of changing a government through constant revolt, rather than waiting for legal elections or constitutionally approved means, is accepted in most Latin American countries while it is anathema to most North Americans. The revolts have not in general this year been against dictators but regrettably against duly elected officials acting under approved constitutions.

In spite of the dozens of committees we have sent to Latin America and the millions of dollars we have spent, we seem little closer to understanding why most of the nations are living on explosive situations. Of course we have to continue to try to figure out how best we can ease matters in Latin America. But obviously we cannot expect too much.

There is one encouraging aspect. In the past, the United States has been charged with supporting dictatorial regimes both through active government programs and through private financial interests. The recent series of revolts has been contrary to United States opinion and the fault would appear to be purely that of the Latin Americans although they may not be willing to accept the blame.

Reviewing Public Spending

One of the most promising of the current interim studies authorized by the state legislature is that which has been ordered on the methods and problems of legislative review of expenditures.

Sen. John Potter of Wood County, in an article published on this page recently, concretely illustrated the frustrations and the disappointments of conscientious legislators in dealing with a budget of mammoth size and infinite complexity, in the limited time that is available, and in the untrained perspective of the average man sent to Madison. The hope of a current study is to develop some auxiliary services of professional quality that would be attached to the legislative fiscal machinery as technical advisors, independent of the executive branch or the administrative services, insulated from the pressure groups, and answerable only to the legislative committees that employed them.

Thus is the Wisconsin legislature moving slowly into a permanent secretariat system approximating in a modest way the machinery of the United States Congress, the British parliament and other legislative organizations of longer historical experience.

visory services for key legislative committees, is encouraging for the perception it shows.

A classic weakness of the legislative process which has obviously contributed to the alarming growth in spending during the last decade is the inability of succeeding legislatures to appraise existing services authorized by others, often in different circumstances, and for different purposes.

As Dr. Knight put it: "The material reviewed relates largely to requests for additional funds. Little or no review is made of past levels of spending."

Yet past appropriations may have involved policies and purposes that currently would be modified, or even rejected, if examined afresh. With the emphasis only on the changes proposed, a legislative committee is often put in the absurd position of auditing a request for 20 additional men in a particular department, without getting the slightest notion of what 1,200 already on the payroll are doing.

The time is coming when the patience and the ability of the Wisconsin community will demand stabilization of governmental costs. When that time comes, decisions will be difficult and delicate. The Potter-Knight committee shows wholesome promise of providing means for such intelligent judgments.

Hopes to Slow Goldwater

Nixon Maneuvering to Get Back Into GOP Presidential Whirl

BY ROBERT S. ALLEN AND PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Former Vice President Richard Nixon is maneuvering to get back into the "public eye" of the political hurricane that GOP presidential hopefuls are stirring up.

He is following the lead of Gov. Nelson Rockefeller and flying to Europe for a two-week "business trip," including a headline-making meeting with France's President Charles de Gaulle.

On his return early in November, Nixon plans to come directly to Washington for a round of conferences with Republican leaders both in and out of Congress.

Despite his repeated denials of any presidential aspirations in 1964, Nixon intends to jump back into the national spotlight while in the capital with one major speech and a press conference.

He May Join in Talks To stir up additional interest in the Nixon meetings here, efforts are being made to induce former President Eisenhower to join in the talks. Eisenhower's presence also is designed to spike reports about a political rift between the two one-time GOP office holders and running mates.

According to Nixon's friends, the main purpose of the new buildup is to boost his sagging influence in party circles and slow down the presidential boom Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz.

Nixon hopes to achieve this objective by pushing for a "free and open convention" — urging as many GOP governors and senators as possible to become favorite son candidates.

Has Rocky's Support

In this political maneuver, Nixon has the support of Gov. Rockefeller, who privately favors a second try for the unsuccessful 1960 candidate if he can't make it.

Thomas E. Dewey, two-time GOP presidential candidate and one of Rockefeller's chief supporters, is advising Nixon on his political strategy. Almost any Sunday they can be spotted as golfing partners in New York.

Dewey is stressing that Nixon should keep his political pipelines open in order to become the party's "unity" candidate should a deadlock develop in San Francisco next July. Nixon, who is now content to try his hand at kingmaking, is following Dewey's advice.

The Goldwater Boom Whether Nixon's active entrance into the political arena will be able to slow down the Goldwater boom is conjectural.

Already, strong pressure is being exerted on Michigan's Gov. George Romney by Republican county chairmen in his state to abandon his plans to become a favorite-son at the 1964 convention.

Goldwater supporters here say that 70 per cent of the GOP county chairmen now support the Arizona senator and have assured their candidate that they are privately urging Gov. Romney to forget about the presidential race and seek re-election next year instead. These county chairmen are reported ready to go all out in the governor's bid for a second term if he heads a Goldwater-for-President slate in San Francisco.

Meanwhile, Pennsylvania's Gov. Scranton has worked out a private deal with Peter O'Donnell, chairman of the National Draft Goldwater Committee, whereby no headquarters will be opened in his state until after the November elections this fall.

Fear Party Split O'Donnell agreed to the request after Scranton appealed to Sen. Goldwater that such a move could split the Republicans wide open in Pennsylvania and clear the way for the Democrats to make gains in local elections.

Gov. Scranton, who is being urged by Nixon and Rockefeller to become a favorite-son candidate, is under strong pressure by the largest GOP financial contributors in his state to head up a Goldwater slate of delegates to the 1964 convention.

So strong is this pressure that Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., a former GOP national chairman, arranged with Sen. Joseph Clark, D-Pa., to have Sen. Goldwater as a guest on their weekly statewide radio-TV show. Sen. Clark agreed after Scott promised to "star" with President Kennedy at a later date.

Olson Statements

Show Disappointment Over Knowles' Move

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — Jack B. Olson, the ambitious tourist excursion boat operator at Wisconsin Dells, is discovering that big-time state politics has more ramifications than he knew when he decided nearly three years ago that he wanted to become governor of Wisconsin.

For the second time he has been disappointed to find, in spite of early preparations and a clear declaration of his intentions, that there is a formidable rival in his path to the nomination of the Republican party.

As his comments of last week have shown, he is scarcely unable to conceal his bitter disappointment that Warren P. Knowles should have chosen to run for the governorship also instead of the U. S. senatorship.

There is perhaps a further element of bite in the situation when it is recalled that Olson wanted to run in 1962 and withdrew after considerable preliminary effort when it was evident that he was running behind Knowles and Philip Kuehn in prospects for party convention endorsement. Olson's withdrawal then may have had the effect of helping Knowles, although Kuehn managed to win the convention blessing by a handful of votes, nevertheless.

Olson then won the lieutenant governorship nomination as a kind of consolation award, and when he managed to win the election by a slight margin in the fall there was some reason for him to assume that he could aspire to the top nomination this year.

UNCERTAINTY

But there was never anything sure about it, or even reasonably sure.

The lieutenant governor got a hint that was plain enough at the Oshkosh party convention many months ago when a resolution was put through that invited Knowles to run for either governor or senator, and virtually pledging him convention backing.

Even if Knowles had not decided to run for governor, there was no certainty that Olson would have the prize without a challenge. Several other men whose credentials were at least as convincing were interested.

Mr. Olson now is grumbling that it took Knowles so long to make up his mind.

Such comments do more to disclose his own excessive anxiety and his own premature campaigning. The election is 13 months distant. On the record the Knowles announcement is one of the earliest ever made. As Knowles has said, the risk in such an early declaration is that the campaign effort is dissipated too early, and that the drive tends to sag in the autumn of the election year, precisely when it should be reaching a crescendo. In point of fact, Olson's own even earlier announcement was intended to discourage Knowles — or to coax him into making the senatorial campaign.

HEALTHY

In any objective assessment, Lt. Gov. Olson will find it difficult to meet Knowles in a convention or a primary with a fair chance of success. Knowles is probably the best known and most favorably regarded Republican in this state not now holding office. Some of the early Olson committees, in fact, were organized upon Olson's assumption and assurance that Knowles would not run. With the situation changed, some of these pledges of support may be withdrawn.

It is a cruel choice that confronts the anxious lieutenant governor. He can proceed to make the fight, and risk losing all. Or he can make an accommodation with the realities, and defer his ambitions for another term or two. In the latter case, he would have no difficulty in getting another nomination for lieutenant governor, where he would have the opportunity for the continued build-up that Knowles has had through long exposure and experience. What Mr. Olson must do now is to read his mail carefully during the next month and reflect hard on what he finds there.

We're Living in Age Of 'Atomized Family'

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

The high incidence of troubled youth in our time — of which juvenile delinquency is only one aspect — is caused by many combining factors, and it would be foolish to isolate one factor for special blame.

Yet it seems to me that, if society is a seamless garment (as I believe), the problem of the young is related to the problem of the old. In our society, in our time, both the young and old are detached from the core of family life.

This pattern is distinctively new in the 20th century. We live in the age of the "atomized family" — father, mother, and children revolving around the axis of a common income. The old-style "clan family" has all but been abolished, except in parts of Europe or in some rural communities.

I was the last of my family to have been born in a house that contained not only parents, but grandparents and uncles and aunts as well. I was born in a "three-generation" house, but my children were not, nor will their children be. Each family constellation of parents and children is now its own separate galaxy.

As a result, there is isolation at both ends. The old people live alone, or in dreary nursing homes (except for the few who can afford otherwise); while the children grow up lacking that wider contact with the adult world that was formerly provided by clan living.

Whatever disadvantages may have inhered in the old system, I think that its breakdown has a significant relation to the widespread discontent among young people and the increasing sense of forsakenness by old people. Any feeling of continuity through the generations is lacking.

It is this continuity, this sympathy, that we still find (although diminishing) when we visit a country like Italy, where the generations intermingle freely within the same house and neighborhood. But America is predominantly the country of the young middle-aged: the children have their own world, and the old people are pushed into limbo as speedily and as decently as possible.

In the history of mankind, the truncated parent-and-child family is a social novelty and psychological burden. Discipline is harder, recreation becomes structured and external to family living, indifferent sitters take the place of grandparents or uncles and aunts; in short, the home turns into a launching-pad and is no longer seen as a refuge. I have a strong conviction that we will not solve the "problem of the young" until we attack the "problem of the old" at the same time.

How big a house should you buy?

■ What size home will be right for your family? How much should you spend? How much cash is required? And what about future expenses? There are so many questions when you're planning to buy a house. Do you know how to find the answers?

In "How Much House Can You Afford?" a booklet specially prepared for New York Life, Arthur M. Watkins meets these various problems head on, and furnishes clear, down-to-earth information for every prospective home buyer.

Look Ahead to the Future. According to Mr. Watkins, also author of "Building or Buying the High Quality House at Lowest Cost" and other books, there are two basic considerations: the size of your family and the size of your income—now and in the years ahead. If your family is still growing, you must be sure the house is large enough, or can be expanded. The author also supplies charts and figures to guide your financial planning, including down payment, monthly costs and operating expenditures.

Facts About Mortgages. Mr. Watkins thoroughly discusses the relative merits of old house vs. new house, and gives pertinent facts on mortgaging: how to tailor a mortgage to your budget, how to save money on total interest charges, how mortgage insurance can enable your family to keep their home should the breadwinner die. Also, he helps you appreciate your home as an investment.

Read this free booklet. Where do you start? Whether or not you use the services of a real estate broker, Mr. Watkins gives a number of helpful pointers on how to search for your own particular "dream house." So the best way to begin is by getting this informative booklet. For your free copy, send the coupon, or ask your New York Life Agent. The New York Life Agent in Your Community is a Good Man to Know.

Fond du Lac Awaits Valachi Testimony

Frequent Visitor to City Named as Leading New York Area Mafia Boss

Post-Crescent News Service

FOND DU LAC — Following disclosure this past week that an alleged crime syndicate boss has been a periodic visitor here over the years, residents are waiting for the next chapter of the Valachi story to unfold in Washington Tuesday.

Joseph Valachi has been the justice department's star witness in hearings conducted before Sen. McClellan's rackets investigation committee.

He singled out Joseph (Joe Bonanno) Bonanno 59 Tuesday, Ariz., as being one of the Mafia bosses in the New York area. Local and state authorities have disclosed that Bonanno visited this city in the past, meeting with his longtime friend and business associate, John V. DiBella, 73, the latter president of the Grande Cheese Co. Bonanno's wife Fay, is a minor stockholder in the company.

At Gathering

Bonanno was in attendance at the crime syndicate's Apalachin, N.Y. gathering in 1957.

DiBella, who resides at a local hotel, several years ago was subpoenaed and questioned by federal grand juries investigating organized crime in Phoenix, Ariz., and Los Angeles Calif. He has lived here for about 10 years and has few local acquaintances.

Efforts to contact DiBella proved unsuccessful during the past week.

It is known he left his hotel room last Sunday afternoon and was out of the city during the week. He is said to do a considerable amount of traveling.

Reporters attempted to reach DiBella to get his comment, if any, on Bonanno's name being injected into the hearing records.

Local Developments

There were these local developments this past week:

• Dist. Atty. Thomas Massey, who conducted an investigation into DiBella's company, earlier in the year after Gov. Reynolds indicated criminal elements were in the state, said DiBella admitted at that time to business dealings with Bonanno principally in Arizona real estate.

• Massey also said he had a big file on DiBella but the information was confidential.

• Authorities said they didn't know the last time Bonanno was in Fond du Lac.

• Bonanno has used DiBella's name on hotel registers in the past, according to the state attorney general's file.

Still somewhat of a mystery, however, was the request several months ago of an official of a local cheese packing firm that he be given a permit to carry a gun. The request was made during the investigation triggered by the governor's charges. Police refused him a permit.

The business man reportedly told authorities he at one time was called upon to testify at a New York hearing and feared reprisal.

KHS Council Officers Named

KAUKAUNA — Members of the student council at Kaukauna High School held an organizational meeting recently and elected officers. President and vice president were elected by a vote of the student body in spring of the last school term.

Officers named include Kathryn Bamberg, secretary; Sharon Chamness, treasurer; Carol Behnke, corresponding secretary. Council members voted to have the Homecoming queen ride on a float rather than in a convertible this year and made preliminary plans for entering a float in the Homecoming parade.

An invitation was received from the Chamber of Commerce asking for student council representation at some Chamber meetings and a committee will be organized to handle arrangements.

AVS Elects Council Head

Virginia Boelke Will Head New Group of Officers

Virginia Boelke has been elected president of the student council at the Appleton Vocational and Adult School.

Other council officers for 1963-64 are Dale Westphal, vice president and Sally Roloff, secretary-treasurer.

New council members and the school departments they represent are Rudy Huette, auto machines I; Dale Wait, auto machines II; John Gillic, drafting I; Dale Westphal, drafting II; Peter Werner, electrical I; Larry Bauer, electrical II; Roger Boese, printing; Herman VanderHeyden, machine shop I; Richard Roeland, machine shop II; Ray Jedwabny, junior accounting; Ray Nelson, sales and marketing; Cy Fischer, accounting; Sally Roloff, secretarial; Marion Holschuh, stenographic; Virginia Boelke, data processing; Sandra Pagel, homemaking; and Ray Strobl, trades and industry.

Council Alternates

Alternates are Martin Seckel, auto machines I; Francis Vervoort, auto machines II; Nick Versteegen, drafting I; Don Fries, drafting II; Paul Fulton, electrical I; Melvin Sunert, electrical II; Richard Hanson, printing; Peter Stone, machine shop I; Michael Zimdars, machine shop II; Robert VanDyke, junior accounting; Christine Genal, secretarial; Jan Holton, stenographic; Michael Lynch, data processing; Joan Houschel, homemaking; and William Zak, trades and industry.

Activities committees have been appointed and have started planning for bowling, basketball and production of the school paper. Faculty advisors and committee members are Jack Notebaart, advisor, Sally Roloff and Ray Nelson, bowling; Philip A. LaBorde, advisor, Ray Jedwabny and Dale Westphal, basketball; and James D. Young, advisor, Marion Holschuh and Virginia Boelke, school paper.

Associate at Paper Chemistry Institute Will be Panelist

Frans V. E. Vaurio, research associate at the Institute of Paper Chemistry, Appleton, will be a panelist at the 18th Plastic-Paper Conference of the Technical Association of the Pulp & Paper Industry (TAPPI). The conference is being held Oct. 14-16 in Cleveland, Ohio.

Vaurio's topic will be "Air Knife Application of Barrier Materials." A native of Minnesota, he received a Bachelor of Science degree from Northwestern University and a Master of Science at the University of Minnesota. He is a member of the American Society for Testing and Materials, and of TAPPI.

TAPPI, with headquarters in New York City, is a world-wide association of 10,000 executives, superintendents, chemists, forestry experts, engineers, and other technical men in the pulp, paper, and allied industries. One of its primary functions is to facilitate the collection and exchange of technical information by its members through publications and at meetings such as the plastics-paper conference.

Green Bay Is Site Of Oct. 11-12 Credit Union League Meeting

MILWAUKEE—Delegates from 770 credit unions in the state representing more than 400,000 members will gather at Green Bay Oct. 11-12 for the annual convention of the Wisconsin Credit Union League.

The group, with assets of more than $250 million, is the statewide organization of individual credit unions scattered throughout the state.

Convention headquarters will be at the Hotel Northland with all business sessions and dinner meetings scheduled for the Brown County arena.

A highlight of the convention will be the annual selection of "Miss Credit Union of Wisconsin," at the Oct. 12 luncheon. The winner represents the league at functions throughout the year.

Terms of directors expire in six of the league's 10 state districts. Arthur C. Gilberts, Menominee, is president of the organization and Fabrian C. Monroe, Milwaukee, is managing director.

This will be the 29th year the group has held a state convention.

Cost of Maintaining Military Units High

BY JIM BECKER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Military conversation overheard while wandering through the Pentagon General The President says we've got to send 100 tough combat men to Viet Nam right away.

Colonel Affirmative I'll get in motion whodwise

General Not so fast The secretary wants to know how much it will cost

Colonel Our computer is not operational but throwing my hat figurewise I'd say to get 100 men with combat capability into the proximity of opposing forces would cost about $3 billion

General Three billion dollars? How do you figure that? And speak English That jargon is OK for Senate hearings, but the only thing you said that I understood was $3 billion.

Colonel It's simple, sir The 100 men will need supplies food doctors, dental work snack bars and a headquarters unit The French fried potatoes alone are a big item Somebody has to keep the records And somebody has to keep the records of the unit that keeps the records

General How many men will you need for those jobs?

Military Mission

Colonel Let's see Cooks or five primary schools and a combination junior-senior high school ought to handle it We can build out of the pre-fab material left over from the housing units We'll also need playground equipment, basketballs, baseballs tennis rackets and a few thousand sets of golf clubs We can build a golf course if they don't have one there

General I suppose you want to build a new airfield?

Few Wings

Colonel No need to have that item in our budget, sir The Air Force always builds one I suspect they will chip in a few wings so we can make daily flights to Hong Kong to buy suits and things Or we could rent Pan American Airways for a few years, but that might cost a little more General Economy is the keynote, colonel Did you forget anything?

Colonel Just that we should take a long lease on all the movie theaters in the area, plus a few thousand houses Oh, and one big mansion

General I can understand the theaters and houses, but why the mansion?

Colonel Well sir, with an installation of that size we will need a very high ranking man to command it, and he will need a big fancy house There would be another star in it for the man who takes over

General Ah, how many sand traps are you going to have on that golf course?

Little Chute Kiwanis Hears Report From Badger Boys Delegate

I'VE JUST FILLED YOUR TANK WITH THE SKELLY FURNACE OIL YOU ORDERED, MRS. FLETCHER. HERE'S YOUR SERVICE BOND.

THANKS...IT'S A GOOD FEELING TO KNOW THAT, IF OUR FURNACE CLOGS THIS WINTER, SKELLY WILL PAY $5.00 ON OUR FIRST SERVICE CALL, IF WE HAVE ONE.

Skelly Offers Today To Pay $5.00 On Your First Service Call Next Winter If your Furnace Clogs While You Are Using Skelly Furnace Oil With ANTI-CLOG SK-12

This Bond is yours at no extra cost if you switch to Skelly Furnace Oil before November 30, 1963.

Wouldn't it feel great to know that part of this winter's first oil furnace service call was as good as paid? Skelly offers TODAY to pay you $5.00 on your first service call this winter (if you need one) if your furnace clogs while you are using Skelly Furnace Oil with Anti-Clog SK-12.

How can Skelly dare to make this offer for the 4th straight year? Because SK-12, the miracle additive in Skelly Furnace Oil, is effective in keeping burner nozzles free of rust and sludge. It helps prevent clogged fuel lines and filters, too.

It's so easy to protect yourself: Simply call your Skelly Furnace Oil Dealer today. (See names listed.) Let him fill the fuel tank for your central heating system. After he fills it, he'll award you your $5.00 Furnace Service Bond. Then, what if your furnace fails—due to a clogged burner nozzle, fuel line or filter? If this happens at any time up to May 1, 1964, while you are using Skelly Furnace Oil, you are protected on your first service call.

Just have a reputable furnace service man sign your bond after he makes his call to get your furnace operating again. Then mail the signed bond, with your receipt of payment, to: Skelly Oil Furnace Bond Program, P. O. Box 436, Kansas City, Mo. Skelly will rush you back a $5 check.

How can you lose? There's no better quality furnace oil than Skelly—yet it costs no more. And you have the bonus protection of your $5 Service Bond at no extra cost!

Fair enough? Then, take advantage of this amazing offer now. (Offer expires Nov. 30, 1963.) Don't say next Spring, "I wish we had switched to Skelly!" Switch now! Get your $5 Oil Furnace Service Bond—for a winter of comfort without worry!

Here's Why Skelly Can Make This Exciting Offer:

THROUGH THIS PINPOINT opening must pass all of the fuel your furnace burns. One tiny speck of rust, dirt or sludge can clog it—and you're in trouble!

BUT ANTI-CLOG SK-12, the miracle additive in Skelly Furnace Oil, helps keep the burner nozzle clean and free-flowing. It helps prevent clogging of fuel line and filter, too.

Fund Quotas Dropped by Democrats

Democrats like Gov. George Wallace in Alabama. Wallace has opposed racial integration.

George A. Farr, chairman of the Minnesota Democratic farm-labor party, explained that the national committee would assist a state in one major fund-raising project each year. The state would take half of such proceeds and the other half would be earmarked for joint control of both the state and national organizations. The money would be spent in the state.

Obligation Ended

"The main difference," said Farr, "is that we are relieved of our direct obligations. However, we will participate in raising funds for which the national committee is primarily concerned, such as for presidential and congressional campaigns. But the money is to be spent in the state."

John W. Schmitt, Milwaukee state director of the AFL-CIO Committee on political action, said COPE's executive board would review the plan. "We still will vote on the people on the basis of the record," said Schmitt, "and we're still opposed to high priced dinners."

Fail to Revise Fishing Accord

TOKYO (AP)—Delegates from the United States, Canada and Japan today ended a three-week conference after failing to agree on a revision to the North Pacific Fishery Convention.

In a joint communique they said they will recommend to their governments that a third conference be held in Ottawa sometime next spring. The first conference held in Washington last June also ended in disagreement when Japan objected to U.S. and Canadian demands that it abstain from fishing for salmon and halibut in waters east of 175th west longitude — an area off the Alaskan and Canadian coast.

The conferences are aimed at drafting an agreement to replace a 10-year treaty adopted in 1953. Japan agreed then not to fish for salmon and halibut in the disputed area.

Nikolay Charges $2 Dues Paying Member Regarded as 'Peon'

MADISON (AP)—Assemblyman Frank L. Nikolay, D-Abbotsford, accused the state Democratic party Sunday of "setting up a caste system in which the ordinary $2 a year dues paying member becomes a peon."

His comment came at a meeting of the party's state administrative committee of which he is legislative vice chairman. It was prompted by a proposal for a "century club" of Democrats who would pay $100 a year dues and receive certain privileges. This said Nikolay, would put the party in the position of telling members "you can't get in here because you wear a blue shirt."

State Chairman J. Louis Hanson and his predecessor, Patrick Lucey, told the committee nothing had been decided definitely and they had merely been discussing the advisability of such a club.

governor's office lately, are trying to deny the governor's rights through their control of the legislature.

Reynolds was asked whether the situation he faces in appointments is not comparable to the earlier stalemate on taxation which was settled by negotiation, and whether he would be willing to compromise on by-partisan appointments.

No Deals

"There will be no deals," he snapped, recalling that although his own electoral margin last fall was modest, it was larger in percentage than was President Kennedy's victory and that the president's appointment powers have not been challenged.

"The Democrats control both houses of the U.S. Congress. Wisconsin Democrats have yet to win control of both houses of the legislature in this century although they have won the last three elections for governor."

The governor also announced a state-wide conference in Madison on Oct. 31 to discuss new technical controls for Dutch elm disease which is spreading in the state and now has penetrated 34 counties.

He hailed the decision of the Kimberly-Clark Corporation to build a new chemical pulping plant in Niagara, in Marinette county, instead of across the Michigan boundary, for the processing of hardwood into pulp. He said the preference for a Wisconsin location by the big Wisconsin firm may verify Michigan Republican Gov. Romney's complaint that the Michigan tax climate is not encouraging to industry.

The comment was evidently intended to be ironic. Reynolds has been under fire in Wisconsin politics for supporting fiscal policies claimed by some critics to be detrimental to economic growth.

today if he had successfully contacted the main party.

Difficult Search

"We all think they are alive," said Homme early today. "It's just a matter of pinning down their location. I believe they are on their way out."

He estimated it might take the group a week or more to cover the distance because of the rough going.

Homme, who flew in one of two private search planes Sunday, said the water in the river had been reduced to puddles. He said the two pilots confirmed they saw what they thought were three beached boats, similar to those in use by the explorers.

He said shadows deep in the bowels of the gorge created a problem for the planes diving in and out one at a time trying to spot the expedition. He said low flying helicopters probably would have more luck in spotting any human being.

Peter Lorre Objects to Name Change

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Eugene Weingand, 29, appeared in court to ask permission to change his name to Peter Lorre.

Superior Court Judge Burnett Wolfson asked him why he didn't prefer to be called Bob Hope, Danny Thomas or Jack Benny.

Weingand said he didn't think the names would fit. "Then why don't you call yourself Barry Goldwater or Nelson Rockefeller?" the judge inquired.

"I don't look like them," said Weingand.

Who does he look like?

"Peter Lorre," said Weingand.

He is a Hollywood real estate man whose business cards give his name and add: "Also known as Peter Lorre Jr."

Guess who stood up in court to protest?

Peter Lorre, the character actor.

He produced two witnesses who said that they had transacted business with Weingand and were told by him that he was Lorre's son.

Weingand denied making such a claim.

And, said Lorre, having another chap with such a similar name in town would not help his career. After two hours' testimony Thursday Wolfson ruled that the plaintiff can henceforth legally call himself—Eugene Weingand.

and in Florida-Bahama waters. Gale warnings flapped as far north as Stuart, almost a third of the way up Florida's Atlantic coast.

A broadcast monitored in Miami Sunday night said 30,000 persons had been taken from flooded villages around Victoria de las Tunas and 4,700 from suburbs of Santiago de Cuba—where Havana radio said drinking water ran out and many homes collapsed. More than one-fourth of Camaguey capital of Camaguey Province, was reported flooded.

Carlos Rodriguez, head of the Cuban Agrarian Reform Institute, was quoted as saying Flora may have wiped out half of Cuba's rice, coffee, cotton and cocoa production.

Missing were crews of two Cuban coastal fishing boats and two firemen.

Rescue by Helicopters

Rescue workers with helicopters went to the aid of farmhands whose trucks were caught by flood waters between Caimanera and Guantanamo City, about 20 miles from the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo Bay. Other farm workers were reported marooned on roofs.

Before Flora assailed Cuba, she killed 17 people on Tobago Island, off Venezuela, then took estimated at 400 lives in Haiti, flapped as far north as Stuart, almost a third of the way up Florida's east coast.

Forecasters at Miami said Flora was expected to take a northward turn today. That would turn her churning up rough seas in the rain-laden fury loose once again northwest Caribbean, southeast on eastern Cuba.

House Fight Due On Continuation Of Commission

WASHINGTON (AP)—A civil rights skirmish looms in the House today when a bill to extend the life of the Civil Rights Commission comes up for a vote.

The bill is a stopgap measure to keep the commission alive until Congress acts on an omnibus civil rights bill. The commission is due to expire Nov. 30.

The House action ushers in a heavy week of congressional activity, with a $47-billion defense appropriation bill, a major education bill and a bill providing funds for more than 20 government agencies coming up in either the House or Senate.

A parliamentary situation requiring a two-thirds majority for passage of the Civil Rights Commission extension adds a touch of suspense to what otherwise would be a fairly routine vote.

Happy Chandler Enters Hospital for Check-Up

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Former Gov. A. B. Chandler entered the A. B. Chandler Medical Center Sunday for a check-up.

A hospital spokesman said the 65-year-old former senator, baseball commissioner and two-term governor probably would be in the hospital a day or two.

concluded since the end of World War II that bears the signatures of both the United States and the Soviet Union.

Not all of the 12 are treaties in the restricted use of the word in the United States, where a treaty is an agreement made by the President by and with the advice and consent of the Senate. Some of them are agreements made without congressional assistance, under the President's constitutional power.

And only two of the 12 are bilateral treaties between Washington and Moscow, the agreement on cultural exchanges and the "hot line" pact. The others are multi-lateral.

The list includes only the major treaties, but there is no yardstick to determine where minor ends and major begins.

Moscow Circus Visited By Anti-Red Protesters

NEW YORK (AP)—An aerial act of the Moscow Circus gained an unscheduled performer Sunday night—an anti-Castro Cuban girl who climbed to a 25-foot-high platform and unfurled a banner. "Russians get out of Cuba," it said.

Three other girls ran to the center of the ring before the 9,000 spectators at Madison Square Garden and shouted for Soviet soldiers to leave Cuba.

Special police escorted the six demonstrators from the building.

Ex-Confidence Man Gives Thanks to Prison

LONDON (AP)—Britain's one-time king of confidence men delivered flowers and a letter of thanks today to the prison that helped him go straight.

"They really looked after me in Wandsworth jail," said Stanley Rowe, "and I wanted to show my appreciation."

Lowe, 41, told reporters he had just completed his first two years of freedom since he was 14.

Lowe returned to the prison in a tailored suit, bowler hat, hand-made shoes, a $25 shirt and a silver-headed walking stick.

Manhattan Becomes Siren City in October

BY HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—No one is ter the Lincoln tunnel and leave the big chance, to beat the big April. quite sober in Manhattan in New Jersey behind. Any time city down to their size. October.
Everyone drinks the wine of new possibility.
Anything can happen, every- thing does.
New York City advertises her- self as a summer festival, but she is even more of a fall fiesta.
Her fugitive children troop back from their summer hideaways has big plans, big dreams, big Moscs and full of tales hopes — the big angle. Every clothing the skeleton of the giant of country adventure. But they bus, every train, every plane un-world's fair in a mad race kind really don't start living again until loads hard-eyed or starry-eyed against time to get the biggest they cross the Bronx line, or en-schemers who come here to seek show in history ready by next count — it's a period in a cocoon buildings going up and old build- thump of baseballs in gloves on city playgrounds. The pigeons outside the Central Park Zoo ge fewer handouts, and the polar bears gambol gaily in their chilling pool. Old ladies wait for sunny afternoons to lean plump arms on pillows in tenement win- dows and stare down with time- less curiosity on the antics of man- tober.

A fresh glitter comes to tawdry Who'd want to be?

Broadway Old shows close New shows open—and some close. But in Tin Pan Alley the pianos go on tinkling forever.
On Fifth Avenue, the fabulous store windows drip with furs and jewels. Along the Bowery, burns shiver and wonder where they'll get an overcoat. In expensive res- taurants the gin and tonic gives way to the vodka martini.
Life itself is just one big cock tail party in the big town now.
Everyone from Park Avenue cin- detalias to Greenwich Village beatniks shares a feeling of exul- tant intoxication, for no one is quite sober in Manhattan in Oc- tober.

Integrationists Hit By Police Raid Under New Louisiana Law
NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A racial integration organization was raid- ed Friday night—the first action taken under the state's "subver- sive activities and Communist control" law.
State troopers and city police confiscated records at the South- ern Conference Educational Fund Inc. and arrested three of its officials.
Dr. James A. Dornowski, ex- ecutive director, Benjamin Smith, treasurer and Bruce Walzer, a member, were paroled a few hours after they were picked up.
Smith and Walzer are law part- ners. All three men are white.
Their homes were raided, along home with the fund headquarters and Shebovgan County authorities said that indications were that the Officers charged the three with television set in a game room criminal conspiracy. They were exploded setting fire to the home, accused of willingly and knowingly Mrs. Naylor's body was found ly participating in the manage, near a kitchen door, leading from ment of a subversive organiza- the game room.
